NO. 41—EIGHTY-SECOND YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1940 | SIXTEEN PAGES

BRITISH RAIL SYSTEM PARALYZED BY WORST BLIZZARD IN YEARS

Scotland Isolated When Heavy Snow Stalls Trains —Attempts to Reorganize Service Fail—Fuel And Fresh Meat Shortage—Roads Blocked —Trains Halted—Buses Held Up

LONDON, Jan. 29 (AP).—The Government tonight announced a shortage of fuel and fresh meat as a result of paralyzed communications in the British Isles resulting from the week-end blizzard, the worst in fifty years.

Government departments appealed to the public to economize as much as possible on beef and pork. They urged also rigid economy in coal, coke, gas and electricity.

As soon as distribution facilities return to normal the economies can be dispensed with, the announcements said.

The public was asked to use frozen meats and mutton, instead of pork and beef. With roads blocked, the Ministry of Food said that difficulties are being experienced in getting the normal supplies of cattle to market.

Today heavy snows made new inroads on train and bus transportation, making thousands late for work and closing numerous shops.

SOME TRAINS LOST

Some trains were reported "lost." Scotland was cut off, with no service available between it and London in either direction on the St. Pancras or Euston routes. Another service severed was that to Northern Ireland by way of Heysham and Stranraer.

JAPAN RESUMES ZONE BLOCKADE

Planes Fly Low Over Foreign Area—Barricades Electrically Charged

TIENTSIN, Jan. 29 (AP).—Japanese military planes roaring low over the blockaded British and French concessions today aggravated tension of the foreign zone surrounded by electrically charged barricades and Japanese sentries.

Resuming their activities after an interval of several months, the Japanese aircraft swooped only a few hundred feet above the zone where the newly-tightened Japanese blockade brought a serious shortage of food supplies.

Military authorities declined to comment on the sudden aerial activity.

Barbed wire enclosures around the British and French Concessions were charged with electric current Sunday and a food import ban imposed after Japanese-British friction arose over seizure of twenty-one German seamen from a Japanese liner thirty-five miles off Yokohama.

PRESS ATTACKS

Chinese language newspapers, controlled by the Japanese army, meanwhile launched attacks on the United States' abrogation of her friendship and trade treaty with Japan. The pact expired on January 26.

One paper declared the action resulted from "American envy of Japan's growing intimacy with China" and declared of the open door policy that there was "no greater insult imaginable, showing clearly the lack of respect for China's sovereignty and the common policy of all white men to keep China an economic colony forever and the Chinese international slaves."

The blockade continued to create incidents at the barricade entrances where sentries prevented all nationalities from taking in food.

Only the barest necessities were available within the foreign areas. Housewives and servants thronged markets in an effort to buy stocks before the food shortage becomes more grave.

Half of Alaskan Town Burns Up

SEATTLE, Jan. 29 (AP).—The Arctic Circle Exploration Company reported tonight fire destroyed half the town of Candle, Alaska, during the week-end.

Company offices in Seattle said its $25,000 recreation hall, a warehouse stocked with food and the town's electric light plant were destroyed. The Boris Magids store also was burned with a loss set at $30,000.

SIX MOVE TO UPPER HOUSE

Prime Minister Announces New Appointments to Senate of Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 29 (CP).—Appointment of six new senators was announced tonight by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Those appointed are J. Fernand Fafard, Quebec; Hon. J. C. Elliott, Ontario; Arthur L. Beaubien, Manitoba; Donald MacLennan, Nova Scotia; John J. Stevenson, Saskatchewan, and Dr. Aristide Blais, Alberta. Four vacancies in Quebec and three in Ontario remain unfilled.

These six appointments gave the Liberals thirty-eight members and the Conservatives fifty-one, with seven vacancies in the ninety-six-seat Upper House.

LONG IN SERVICE

Mr. Fafard, Liberal M.P. for Montmagny-L'Islet in the House which has just been dissolved, has represented his constituency in the Commons continuously for more than twenty-two years. For many years he served as president of the Liberal caucus. Mr. Fafard, a land surveyor, is a member of the Empire Parliamentary Association, and was one of Canada's delegates to the meeting of that association in South Africa in 1924.

BUSINESS AT A STANDSTILL

Economic Activity in Soviet Russia Paralyzed by Various Difficulties

KOMARNO, Hungary, on the Russian Border, Jan. 29 (CP-Havas).—Soviet economic activity has been practically paralyzed by excessive collectivization, bureaucratic confusion and the dislocation provoked in transport and various administrative departments by the occupation of Poland and the war on Finland, reports reaching here tonight said.

The Russian population, however, believes the economic difficulties are a result of shipments of food and other goods to Germany, the dispatches said.

The reports said that in mid-January food prices in Government stores were increased from 20 to 33 per cent. Sugar now costs six rubles per kilogram (2.2 pounds) instead of four (the ruble has a nominal worth of about twenty cents); beef thirteen and sixteen instead of nine, and poultry sixteen rubles, compared with thirteen.

Since the beginning of the year prices also have increased in "free markets," dealing in the products of small plots of land which collectivized peasants have been permitted to cultivate privately.

Waves of Russian Planes Rain Death On Finnish Cities

Scores of Civilians Killed and Wounded in Heaviest Bombings of War—Hospitals Attacked—Wounded Soldiers Victims—Defenders Raid Enemy Troops and Supplies

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 29 (AP).—Russian warplanes, winging out of the southeast in waves, rained more than 1,000 bombs on Southern Finnish cities today and first reports indicated scores of civilians had been killed and wounded.

The raids, worst of the war in some sections, came as Finns cheered news of fresh successes on the front north of Lake Ladoga, where the Russians were officially reported to have left more than 1,200 dead on two snowy battlefields.

At Abo, residents crouched in shelters for three hours as fifty Russian bombers gave the city its worst bombing in fifty-three raids during eight weeks of war.

Thirty civilians were killed, and ten buildings wrecked. The Russian planes flew over the city in five waves.

Fifteen bombers, accompanied by

ITALY ATTACKED BY SOVIET PRESS

Accused of Waiting to Strike Bargain for Colonies as Price Of Fighting

MOSCOW, Jan. 29 (AP).—The newspaper Trud, organ of the Soviet trade unions, today attacked Italy, accused her of having a foot in both Allied and German camps and of waiting "until the last minute" to strike a bargain for new colonies as the price for fighting.

Pravda, Communist party organ, assailed Italian press reports of alleged Finnish victories, declaring Fascist journalists are following in the path of "bribed" writers in France, Britain and United States.

Some sections of the press referred sarcastically to Italian military reverses at Adowa, Ethiopia, in 1895, at Caporetto in the First Great War and Guadalajara in the Spanish Civil War.

CHARGE POLISH PRIESTS SLAIN

Reports to Vatican Describe Alleged Mistreatment of Catholic Clerics

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 29 (AP).—The Polish Embassy at the Vatican today circulated a pamphlet charging the authorities of German-occupied sections of Poland sought to "exterminate" Catholic Poles by mass shootings, expulsions from their homes and religious persecution.

"It is a real extermination, conceived with diabolic malice and carried out with unequaled cruelty," it said.

Embassy officials said the pamphlet was based on reports which came to the Vatican from August Cardinal Hlond, primate of Poland, and which have reached Pope Pius XII. The reports were collected by priests, it was indicated.

The description of alleged excesses, in which at least nineteen priests were said to have died at the hands of the Germans, amplified a broadcast of similar accounts over the Vatican radio station last week.

DENIED BY BERLIN

(In Berlin German authorities denied there was persecution of Catholics in Poland and stated that churches were open for worship as usual. Authorities, although declining to comment on the specific charge that fourteen priests had been shot, said that presta were shot as "snipers" when arms were found in their homes.)

One document, dated December 20, said:

"In the Archdiocese of Pozan there were frightful mass shootings at

WILL CUT DOWN EXPANSION PLANS

United States House Naval Committee Looks for Swift Change In Conditions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP).—In the belief that world conditions may change swiftly, the United States House Naval Committee will cut the navy's $1,300,000,000, six-year expansion programme down to a two-year plan totaling less than $750,000,000.

This was closed today after a meeting of the committee. Influential members said that while no final decision was taken, pending testimony by Secretary of the Navy Edison tomorrow, there was no doubt the modification would be made.

Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.) explained the programme would be limited to such ships as can be built within the coming two years.

HINDERED BY NO SHORTAGE

British Supply Minister Gives Illuminating Facts to French Newsmen

LONDON, Jan. 29 (CP-Havas).—The munitions shortage which hampered the Allies in the early months of the first Great War will not be repeated at any stage of the present war, Supply Minister Leslie Burgin assured French war correspondents when they called on him today.

The correspondents, visiting England to obtain a first-hand view of the British war effort, were told the production has been stepped up about 500 per cent in certain branches of the armaments industry compared with the pre-war period.

PERFECT CO-OPERATION

He emphasized the perfect co-operation between British and French war production, particularly on questions relating to technical and scientific developments and the exchange of raw and finished materials.

Asked about the possibility of Soviet Russia furnishing large-scale assistance to Germany, he replied the Allies did not think this question is serious "because Russia is a handicap to its own allies and the heroic resistance of Finland is helping to destroy the myth of Soviet power."

After their visit to Mr. Burgin, the correspondents were tendered a luncheon at which Sir John Reith, Minister of Information, presided.

ALL SPEECHES MUST BE READ

Censorship in Election Campaign Will Be From War Angle Only

OTTAWA, Jan. 29 (CP).—Censorship of political speeches broadcast during the coming election campaign will be limited to preventing violation of the Defence of Canada regulations and the speeches will be studied from the war and not the political angle, it was learned here tonight.

All political speeches broadcast during the campaign must be delivered in studios and copies must be provided in advance for censorship. Public meetings will not be broadcast.

Official announcement covering broadcasting rules for the election is being prepared by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and probably will be made public on Wednesday.

Censorship will be a matter for the radio division of the censorship co-ordination committee rather than for the C.B.C. Col. R. P. Landry, head of the censorship committee, hopes to have censors in each of the large centres to which radio station managements can refer when in doubt over texts submitted to them so, as a rule, it will not be necessary to send texts to Ottawa which would entail delays.

Final decisions have to be made as to the amount of free time on the air each party will be allowed and regulations regarding the purchase of broadcasting time.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

MOSCOW, Jan. 29 (AP).—A Russian court ordered the death penalty today for a hit-and-run driver whose car killed a woman after a drinking party. He had been fined ten times previously for traffic violations.

Power Suspended By Fuel Shortage

TOKIO, Jan. 30 (Tuesday) (AP).—A critical fuel shortage forced the Government to suspend the electric power supply in fourteen prefectures embracing Osaka, Kobe and Kyoto today, paralyzing most of the country's industry. The suspension will continue possibly to Wednesday.

Allies Must Win War Says French Premier In Speech to Nation

Daladier Declares, However, It Would Be "Criminal" to Underestimate German Arms—Total Conflict Bound to Come Soon, He Claims

PARIS, Jan. 29 (AP).—It is "criminal" to underestimate Germany's formidable military might, Premier Daladier told France in a broadcast tonight and warned that the country must expect hard knocks in "the total war which is bound to come soon."

He pleaded for increased armament output, asked steady discipline on the home front and promises merciless action against agents disseminating German or Russian propaganda.

Before he spoke a semi-official statement confirmed that the Allies had assembled an army in the Near East against the possibility of war spreading in the Balkans.

This statement did not give figures, but said the British and French "will have in the Near East at the necessary moment sufficient men to face any eventuality." It labeled as "manifestly exaggerations" Russian guesses that 400,000 men are massed in Syria under General Maxine Weygand, the French commander of Allied forces in the Near East.

The semi-official statement on the

AIR RAIDS ALONG WHOLE COAST RESULT IN BUT SLIGHT DAMAGE

Most Ambitious Attack of Present War by German Flyers Brings Death to Seven Latvian Seamen And Probable Destruction of Lightship— Fourteen Ships are Attacked

Raiders Driven Off Without Casualty to British Force

LONDON, Jan. 29 (AP).—German planes bombed fourteen ships along the East Coast of Britain today in a three-hour air raid ranging from the Shetland Islands far in the north to the Kent Coast in the southeast. Seven Latvian seamen were killed.

It was a sudden, fierce attack, by far the most ambitious the German air force has tried so far in the war. Despite its intensity, the damage at sea was slight. Bombing of land objectives was not attempted.

The suggestion was heard tonight that Germany took a gamble with the weather in the hope that British fighter planes would be grounded. Although British railways and road transport were tied in knots by the severity of the weather, R.A.F. fighters were able to take off from their airdromes in sufficient numbers to protect the vital shipping lanes.

SAVED BY CLOUDS

The German bombers, most of them Heinkel 111K models, were able to elude fast, quick-firing fighters because of the abundance of low clouds. The Royal Air Force said there were no air casualties.

Two of the ships attacked by the planes were defenceless lightships, one being badly damaged.

The seven were killed when the Latvian Ss. Tautmila was bombed in the North Sea. Ten bombs were dropped. Fifteen other men and the captain's wife were said to have escaped injury.

The Tautmila was still afloat tonight, but burning. Her engines were shattered.

Captain Dreismann, who told of the attack, said one bomb dropped "almost on top" of a lifeboat that was being lowered, killing several men and throwing others into the sea. Another "fell right on top of the cook," he said.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Fighting continued over the week-end in Finland north of Lake Ladoga, but the Russian attacks were on a smaller scale, and it is believed they are suffering from lack of supplies. They had been manoeuvred by the Finns into a trap in this area and their recent offensive was a desperate attempt to fight their way out.

On the Salla front the Russians are beleaguered within their fortified lines, and Moscow is sending another division to relieve them.

* * *

As the outcome of the Lake Ladoga fighting, the Finns now believe they are reasonably safe from an outflanking of the Mannerheim Line on its northern flank.

The Russians have lost a good deal of war material in the week-end operations and the numbers killed amount to hundreds daily.

In the air there has been a decline in the invaders' activity, perhaps due to the Russian disinclination to bomb while the British trade union delegation, headed by Sir Walter Citrine, is in Finland.

A Russian submarine has been sunk in a Finnish mine field. A captured Russian major states that Marshal Budyenny is in command of the war against Finland and that the Russians have 600,000 troops in the field.

The British note to Japan, explaining stoppage and search of the Asama Maru, has been ill received in Tokio, where it is said Japan will take measures in future to protect her ships by armed force if necessary. Conversations with the British Ambassador, however, continue.

Japanese irritation is chiefly due to the fact that they feel they have lost face through a display of British naval power on Japan's very doorstep, so to speak.

Nazi barbarities in Poland have become worse than ever. People are dragged from their homes and deported to Germany on the slightest provocation. Churches are forcibly shut except for a few hours on Sundays. Priests have been shot or ill-treated to a point where they have died from injuries.

Groups of townfolk are taken from their homes, sealed up in railway trucks, carried miles away into the country and then turned loose to fend for themselves as best they can.

The German grip on Czecho-Slovakia is to be tightened. From April, Moravia and Bohemia are to be incorporated in the German economic system and the customs frontiers will be abolished. This decree means that self-government, or what is left of it, in Bohemia and Moravia is reduced virtually to nothing. All Czech universities have been closed for three years.

Report Germany to Control Rumanian Shipments Via Polish Area

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Jan. 29 (CP-Havas).—Reports of riots in Soviet-occupied Poland, of impending German control of Rumanian shipments across Polish Galicia, and of preparations to "repatriate" Baikan Germans were heard here tonight.

The twenty-first anniversary of Ukranian independence, January 20, was the signal for bloody demonstrations at Lwow, the Ukranian capital, the reports said. They added that several persons were killed when the Russian military fired into an immense crowd moving toward the cathedral at the centre of the city.

It was reported tonight that Ukranian Separatist leaders, arrested by the Soviets last September, have been transferred to Kiev, in White Russia. They are charged with accepting German financial support for a separatist movement affecting the Soviet Ukraine.

OIL SHIPMENTS

This reminder of former German-Russian friction contrasted with reports Germany will soon control Rumanian freight movements across Soviet-occupied Poland. The police department here has been instructed by the Bucharest Government to arrange passports for Rumanian officials who will convoy shipments straight through to the Reich frontier, the reports said. German circles said German-Soviet transports across Eastern Galicia will be reorganized shortly. Nazi storm troopers and elite guard units will

Is Killed by Exploding of Anaesthetic

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 29 (AP). — The death of a university hospital patient on January 11 from an anaesthetic explosion was under investigation today by the Hennepin County coroner.

Vernon Youngberg, thirty-one, who had suffered from tuberculosis ten years, had been administered cyclopropane for a chest operation to treat the disease. The operation was finished, but the anaesthetic apparatus was still connected to the patient, when the gas exploded and ruptured the right lung, the coroner's office reported.

COALITION MAY HARASS SMUTS

Hertzog and Malan Would Set Up Republic for South Africa

CAPETOWN, Jan. 29 (CP, Reuters).—The new opposition coalition, headed by the former Prime Minister, General J. B. M. Hertzog, and Dr. D. F. Malan, today placed another parliamentary obstacle in the path of Premier Jan Smuts by forcing a debate on the first reading of the Government's "indemnity bill."

General Hertzog and Dr. Malan organized a united opposition group on Sunday after the former Prime Minister's resolution calling for a separate peace with Germany was defeated by twenty-two votes at the conclusion of five days of bitter debate.

WANT REPUBLIC

The Hertzog-Malan coalition advocates a "republican form of government separated from the British Crown" for South Africa.

Dr. Malan charged General Smuts "vies with Joseph Stalin in contempt of democratic procedure." He said Stalin at least openly opposed democracy, whereas Smuts pretended to be its protector.

L. Blackwell, member for Kensington, Transvaal, said that at the outbreak of war General Hertzog and his Defence Minister, Oswald Pirow, were in favor of neutrality and the Union entered the war with a gravely divided people. In carrying out the Union's war policy, he said, General Smuts rescued the country from chaos and put it on an even keel, while showing his political opponents a forbearance they would not have shown him.

Rumania Faces Crisis While Europe Awaits Decision of Hungary

Demands for Transylvania and Unrestrained Press Attacks Causing Concern—Struggle for Oil Continues—Hungarian Minister to Talk

BUDAPEST, Jan. 29 (AP).—The Hungarian press attacked Rumania today as Southeastern Europe waited for tomorrow's declaration of Hungary's Foreign Minister, Count Istvan Csaky, on his nation's attitude toward Rumania.

Dropping their self-imposed restraint of recent months, some commentators in Hungarian papers said Rumania is trembling over the possibility of being cut up.

Hungary has made repeated demands for Transylvania, a district which went to Rumania upon the collapse of the Austro-Hungarian Empire after the last war. Circles close to Csaky said he would state Hungary's position in "no uncertain terms" when he appears before the parliamentary foreign affairs committee.

The Csaky pronouncement assumed greater importance in that it will come four days before an important meeting of the Balkan Entente—Rumania, Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia—at which Rumania is hoping to gain guarantees of support against all potential enemies, including Hungary.

In Bucharest, the struggle for Rumania's oil grew more intense with the arrival by plane of twenty-five British and French agents and

Premature Closing of Switch Is Blamed for Collision—Gasoline Spreads Over Coaches

OSAKA, Japan, Jan. 30 (Tuesday) (AP).—Premature closing of a switch after two of three passenger coaches had passed it was blamed today for Monday's disastrous train wreck.

Latest casualty compilations listed 176 killed, mostly by burns, and sixty-nine injured.

Burning gasoline from punctured tanks spewed over the splintered wood and twisted steel, which became a mass of flames.

Most of the workers were employed at the Shmitono Copper Works.

Sale of Cheap Lots Is Ratified to Assist Home Owners Here

Those Planning to Construct Dwellings Within City Limits Now Able to Purchase Property As Low as $50—Loans Also Available

SALE of twenty-one reverted lots for a total of $1,750 was recommended by the lands committee under the chairmanship of Alderman R. A. C. Dewar and approved at a City Council meeting yesterday afternoon. Eighteen of the lots fetched $50 each under the city's plan to dispose of 400 at that price to those intending to erect dwellings.

Under the direction of Major M. Kirkpatrick Crockett, sale of the low-priced lots will continue at the lands office in the City Hall this morning. Those who purchase the $50 lots must agree to erect a house costing not less than $2,000, and will be eligible to obtain National Housing Act loans.

Those who have erected houses under the value of $4,000 since June 1, 1938, or who build between the present date and May 31, 1940, will be entitled to improvement tax rebates for a period of three years. Application forms are available from the city clerk.

PLAN BUILDINGS

Also on recommendation of the lands committee, the council introduced a by-law to rezone property bounded by Fairfield Road, Beechwood Avenue and Lillian Road to allow for the erection of a block of two-family dwellings. A public hearing on the rezoning question will take place in the council chamber at 3:30 o'clock on the afternoon of February 5.

At the suggestion of the lands and parks committees, an offer of the British America Paint Company, Ltd., to pay the cost of beautifying property at Montreal and Belleville Streets was accepted. Demolition of an old shack at 124 Ladysmith Street was ordered.

A by-law to create Pandora Avenue an arterial highway was passed by the council. A clause providing for a stop sign on the north side of the Quadra Street intersection was deleted.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden's report on a city manager form of government was referred to the finance and legislative committee for study.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan, chairman of the finance committee, stated that he intended to interview Hon. John Hart this morning to see if the Provincial Government could make a grant for the erection of an arena.

SEEK FORMER CLUB

The lands committee was asked to deal with a request from the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada for use of the former Union Club Building.

A writ of summons in the case of George Lee Warner and Margaret Lee Warner vs. the city, arising out of an accident on the Johnson Street Bridge, was turned over to the city solicitor.

The city solicitor and electric light committee were asked to deal with a claim on behalf of Donald Wells, whose foot was allegedly injured by a cluster-light-fuse box plate on Fort Street.

Instructions were given the public works committee and police commission to deal with a letter from R. Kershaw urging discontinuance of all-day automobile parking.

On recommendation of the public works committee, a tender of the Cameron Wood & Coal Company, Ltd., to supply coal was accepted, and a tender of Evans, Coleman & Johnson Bros., Ltd., to provide cement at $2.45 per barrel was ratified.

COST OF REPAVING

The committee reported that the cost of reconditioning Johnson Street and Fernwood Road, would be $2,240. The matter was referred to the estimates committee.

Woodyard permits were granted to the Rose Fuel Company at Pembroke and Douglas Streets, and to Loy Lee, 806 Discovery Street.

On motion of the public works committee, the pay of city foremen was restored to the former standard of $5.50 per day. Alderman Edward Williams stated the men received that amount in 1932 before pay cuts. Alderman John A. Worthington wanted to know why it had been decided to grant an increase to foremen and not the Ross Bay Cemetery caretaker. Alderman Dewar remarked there were still salary adjustments that had been overlooked.

On motion of the parks committee, the council agreed that no move would be made to secure Clover Point, recently taken over by the Department of National Defence for the duration of the war. Alderman Worthington did not agree with the motion.

TO REMOVE TREES

The committee also successfully moved that fourteen decaying trees be removed on Humboldt Street, between Blanshard and Rupert Streets, and a tree outside 3190 Quadra Street. Alderman S. H. Okell explained there was no hope of saving the trees from decay, but Alderman Worthington opposed the motion.

A finance committee motion that $5,000 be paid to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau on account of the annual grant was passed. The committee also moved that tenders totaling $822.06 for envelopes, letterheads, paper and other stationery be accepted.

It was decided to order 260 copper bands, 500 steel bands and 500 lead strips for the pipeline at a total cost of $1,289.37.

On motion of the Aged and Infirm Men's Home committee, tenders of W. S. Norrington to supply bread at 4.9 cents per pound; Ralph Rendle to provide milk at 30 cents per gallon, and B. W. Brown & Sons to supply fish were accepted.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

Alderman Worthington suggested that the city engineer report on the cost of improving Wharf Street, which he stated now carried considerable traffic.

Alderman Wills wanted to know about repairs contemplated to the Isolation Hospital, and if the Provincial Government still intended to suggest to adjoining municipalities that they assist in the cost of operation.

Alderman Worthington admitted the building needed renovating. He stated an item would be included in annual estimates. Alderman Dewar saw no reason why other municipalities should not help the city to maintain the hospital. It was finally agreed to refer the question to the provincial health officer.

Kostazyn, Sroda, Srem, Kosc ian, Gostyn and other cities in which were executed the better nobility, the more distinguished citizens and even priests."

At least fourteen priests were reported shot. The reports charged further that one was beaten to death with a rifle butt by German soldiers, that another died of overwork under forced labor, two died in prison and another was killed by a mob. Many priests were said to be held in concentration camps doing humiliating and strenuous work.

TAKEN FROM HOMES

The pamphlet said thousands of Poles, including priests, were taken from their homes with their belongings, loaded into cattle cars and taken to that part of Poland known as "General Government" Poland, which is under German control but not part of the formally annexed territory.

At their destination, sometimes in open country, these people were abandoned to their fate, the reports charged. The train trips were said to have taken from two to four days in some cases, the passengers being denied food and water and many dying.

AIR RAIDS RESULT IN SLIGHT DAMAGE

The British Ss. Gripfast, 1,109 tons, reached a northeast port tonight after being damaged in an aerial attack.

WOUNDED BY BULLETS

The 4,867-ton Otterpool was subjected to machine-gun fire when a German bomber dropped ten bombs near her. Two crewmen were wounded when bullets raked the deck.

In most cases the raiders were driven off. One authoritative account said:

"In spite of the severe weather conditions and poor visibility, Royal Air Force aircraft were able to engage and drive off the enemy at many points. One raider was reported to have dropped seven bombs near the Ss. Llanwern, 4,966 tons, in the Tyneside area, without scoring a hit."

Most of the raids took place close to shore. One report said eighteen Nazi planes were seen close to the east coast itself. Violent explosions were heard at sea off a North Yorkshire resort.

OTHERS ATTACKED

Other ships reported attacked were: British Officer, 6,990 tons; Stanburn, 2,881 tons; Knitsley, 2,272 tons; Wellpark, 4,649 tons; Imperial Monarch, 5,831 tons; Miriam, 1,903 tons; Ethel Monarch, and the Dany-Bryn. The names of the lightships were not available.

Air raid precautions were reported to have worked smoothly. The nearness of the attacks to shore halted the clatter of shipyard hammers as the workers hurried into underground shelters.

The Air Ministry issued the following communique on the raids on the Shetland Islands:

"An air raid warning was sounded in the Shetlands shortly after midday today. Several bombs dropped in the sea. No damage or casualties have been reported. The raiders have passed' signal was given after some fifty minutes. Fighters went up but owing to unfavorable weather conditions no interception was made."

The aerial attacks were coupled with a British announcement that three neutral ships had been sunk by German submarines.

AMAZING SALVAGE

The Dutch Ss. Nora was beached on the southeast coast today after her stern had been blown off by a mine. In salvage work that amazed experts, a tug succeeded in making a hawser fast to the ship and by sheer force towed her ashore. The crew was reported safe on another salvage vessel.

Dispatches from Amsterdam said the crew of the Dutch lightship West Hinder reported witnessing an attack by two German planes on the British freighter Myriam about sixteen miles off the Dutch coast.

The planes dropped bombs at the vessel from a great height without effect and then dived to machine-gun its decks. The ship zig-zagged and answered the planes with anti-aircraft guns. The planes flew away after the futile attack.

SURVIVORS LANDED

Thirty survivors of the Latvian Ss. Everene and eight from the Norwegian Ss. Gudveig, torpedoed by German submarines in the North Sea last week, were landed on the eastern Scottish coast. Among the survivors of the Everene were two women.

One Latvian and ten Norwegians were missing and believed lost. The Gudveig sank in about twelve seconds and the Everene in two or three minutes, eyewitnesses reported.

A mine washed ashore by the tide exploded on the beach near a city on the southeastern coast. The blast tore a hole in a newly-constructed seawall and shattered hundreds of windows. A second mine was found floating offshore a little later.

BRITISH TRAIN SERVICE HALTED

The London, Midlands and Scottish Railway issued a statement regretting inconveniences, but assuring that large forces of men are working under trying conditions to improve the situation.

Contending with many operating and engineering difficulties, the statement said, the line had diverted trains to alternative routes where this was practicable.

"Service was temporarily held up in many places," it continued, "and conditions became so bad in some instances that all attempts to effect normal service were completely unsuccessful. In addition freight train service in several districts had to be temporarily discontinued.

FEED PASSENGERS

"In many cases it was necessary to stop passenger trains short of their destinations and to arrange for the passengers to be detrained. In certain instances trains have had to be taken back to their starting points. In one case arrangements were made to send food to passengers on a train which had not been allowed to proceed."

While several mainline services in Northern England were suspended, officials hoped to run trains from Euston to Birmingham, Crewe and Liverpool on a fairly normal basis.

Services were maintained from St. Pancras to Leeds and in the reverse direction. The chief interference was north of Leeds.

North Lancashire suffered severely from train tie-ups. Some stranded passengers had to spend the night in outlying places and had trying experiences. Among them were several prominent people.

TWO NIGHTS IN TRAIN

Viscount Horne, chairman of the Great Western Railway, sent a telegram stating he had been in a train for two nights and a day.

Reginald Foort, organist, was unable to reach Preston, Lancashire, and even if he had would have been unable to give his performance, for most of his fifteen-ton organ was stowed away in seven motor trucks, which were scattered in an adventurous journey from West Hartlepool.

Others unable to fulfill the theatrical tradition: "The show must go on," were a troupe of children pantominists traveling from Blackpool. Railway officials turned a coach into a dormitory and coupled an engine to it to provide warmth during the night.

WHY BUFFALO KILLED

CALGARY, Jan. 29 (CP). — During discussion at the annual meeting of the Alberta Fish and Game Association on Saturday, reason for the slaughter of the 12,000 buffalo at Wainwright Park was disclosed. Dr. William Rowan, professor of zoology at the University of Alberta, said the animals were riddled with tuberculosis and their hides infested with numerous parisites.

businessmen, and a group of German negotiators by train.

These were added to the hundreds of Britons, Frenchmen and Germans with whom Bucharest is swarming. Most of the agents admit no official connection with their Governments.

Germany and the Allies have been engaged in a "tug-o-war" for several days since Rumania created an "oil dictatorship," under which the Allies fear their companies in Rumania may be forced to furnish oil for Germany's military machine.

In the Rumanian - Hungarian newspaper debate on Magyar-Rumanian relations, which started last week, a Hungarian authority, Professor Gyula Kornis, wrote that Rumania uses the Hungarian word for courage since that quality was not known to the Rumanians before they came into touch with the Magyars.

Bucharest newspapers countered that Hungary ceased to exist as an independent nation, and that not only did Transylvania join Rumania of its own will, but that the Rumanians saved Hungary by defeating the Red regime of Bela Kun in 1919.

NEW PLANE ORDER

BURBANK, Cal., Jan. 29 (AP).—Officials of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation said today they had received an order by the British Government for 200 bombing planes of a new type and spare parts to cost a total of $18,000,000. This order boosts to 750 the number of planes ordered from this company by Britain in recent months.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Jan. 29 (CP). —South Albertans banished all thought of Winter from their minds today as temperatures rose into the high 50's here under a bright sun. A warm week-end melted all the snow in this district and outdoor hockey rinks became pools.

INCREASE IN NET PROFITS

Seventy-Sixth Financial Report Issued by Huron & Erie to Shareholders

The Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation has just issued its financial report to shareholders. This is the seventy-sixth annual statement, and total assets which now amount to $44,006,000 are slightly higher than for a year ago.

Net profits, together with the balance brought forward from 1938, were $446,963, being slightly higher than the sum of $441,554 reported for the previous year. There was a balance carried forward in profit and loss account of $100,748, which is $4,700 in excess of the amount carried forward at the beginning of 1939.

A review of the corporation's liabilities to the public reveals that savings deposits and investments in Huron & Erie currency debentures have increased by $344,500, the total at the end of the year being $34,906,000. Altogether, the public has on deposit or invested with the Huron & Erie $37,289,000.

Paid-in capital, reserve fund and undistributed profits stand at $6,600,748.

Turning to the corporation's assets, it is observed that the customary strong liquid position is maintained. Bonds of Great Britain, Dominion of Canada and the provinces of Canada, and bonds guaranteed by the Dominion or the provinces amount to $4,511,100. Other bonds are valued at $411,800, and cash on hand and in banks amounts to $1,161,000. These liquid assets alone are equal to 61 per cent of savings deposits with the corporation.

Mortgages and agreements for sale are approximately $680,000 lower than a year ago, and these holdings now amount to $32,509,000. A reduction has been made in real estate held for sale, including properties held under power of sale, the past year's figure being $1,029,000.

ALLIES MUST WIN SAYS DALADIER

Near East army said that army is to fulfill the Allies' obligations to Turkey, Greece and Rumania, and their "duty or friendship" to Yugoslavia.

Prior to the war the Allies pledged aid to the first three in event of aggression. No public commitment has been given in regard to Yugoslavia.

Particular importance was attached to the statement in view of the general apprehension here over the possibility of the war spreading to Southeastern Europe.

It had been known generally that France is building up her forces in Syria, although official information has not been available.

Premier Daladier attacked the Hitler regime in what was perhaps his most biting speech of the war.

WORLD DOMINATION

"Germany," he said, "seeks to set up over the world a domination absolutely different from that which history has recorded. . . . The conqueror Hitler does not treat with vanquished nations. He destroys them."

Speaking after holding a conference with General Gamelin, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces, the Premier said: "Millions of human beings in thousands of European cities or villages are experiencing suffering they could not have imagined a few months ago."

Austria, Bohemia, Slovakia and Poland have been reduced to "lands of despair" which are faithful reflections of Germany herself, he declared. "The workers and peasants in Germany are the slaves of their Nazi masters, but the workers and peasants in Bohemia and Poland have become in turn the slaves of these slaves.

"The total war—which is bound to come soon—demands a formidable quantity of arms and ammunition," he said, and each Frenchman must "be at the place where he is most useful."

GERMANY'S ERROR

Germany relies on the "weakness and eventual uncertainties" of the French rear to bring about a Nazi victory, said Daladier. "Our enemies had hoped to range Frenchmen against each other," he said, but they forgot that "we were a great nation which had faced all vicissitudes. . . . My Government already has smashed the foreign agents."

While hitting at propagandists, France has no thought "of striking at those Frenchmen who dream, with free and disinterested sentiment, of Franco-German reconciliation," he said.

Referring to the outlawing of the Communist party, the Premier said: "It was certainly legitimate to be a Communist and to wish to unite France and Russia for the defence of peace. . . . But it would be a crime, in the present circumstances, to remain subject to watchwords from Berlin and Moscow."

Germany is losing the "moral war," and her propaganda is wailing her little, the Premier said. But she still has a formidable material strength which it would be folly to under-estimate.

"To break that strength," he said, "we must be strong. . . . It is for this that the rear devotes itself to work in a spirit of total renunciation and sacrifice, even as the front devotes itself to battle.

"We have to win this war," Daladier concluded, "and we shall win it. But we have also to bring back a victory far exceeding the victory of arms. Facing the world of masters and slaves that the madmen reigning in Berlin would like to forge, we have to save freedom and dignity."

Flaming Bus Takes Heavy Toll of Life

TOLUCA, Mexico, Jan. 29 (AP). — Twenty-five persons were burned to death and thirty-four were injured yesterday, when flaming gasoline enveloped a crowded bus at San Bartolo Otolotepec, near here, officials said tonight.

Prosecuting Attorney Alberti Garcia Diego said no one knew the cause of the fire and that the bus driver, not injured, was being detained for an investigation.

Fun Expected at Alumnae Frolic

Entertaining games have been arranged for the frolic to be held by the St. Joseph's Alumnae in the Nurses' Home of the hospital tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Tickets, which include supper, have been going fast, and additional tickets have been printed, and may be obtained from members or the president, Mrs. E. Corbett, by telephoning E 7504.

Horse racing, which is always a favorite, and bingo and darts are among the more popular games arranged for the evening. There will be a candy stall in charge of several of the members, and a buffet supper will be served throughout the evening.

Mesdames E. Corbett, Gordon Evans, A. Gray, J. Grant, E. Gandy, C. Lewis and Misses H. Pollock and Leahy comprise the committee in charge of arrangements.

"Politeness is the art of making your guests feel they are at home," says a hostess. Instead of just wishing they were.

Pierce County led with twenty schools closed because of "flu" and measles. Five were closed in King County; three in Snohomish. In Grays Harbor County, schools at Aberdeen, Montesano and Cosmopolis had to remain closed because of "flu" and scarlet fever, but Hoquiam and Elma schools were able to reopen.

The epidemic closed Shelton schools in Mason County.

Drastic Alteration In Traffic Control Is Envisioned Here

Car Parking From Half to Two Hours, Elimination Of Angle Stops, Replacement of Present Stop Signs and New Lights Recommended

RECOMMENDATIONS of Chief J. A. McLellan covering half, one and two-hour parking and suggestions designed to improve automobile traffic congestion in the business district were presented to the City Council yesterday afternoon. They will be discussed in detail within a week at a committee of the whole meeting to be called by Mayor Andrew McGavin.

Streets with proposed parking limits follow:

Bastion Street, two hours on portions at present not prohibited; Blanshard Street, two hours on the west side, between Cormorant Street and Burdett Avenue, and on the east side, between Yates and Johnson Streets; Broad Street, thirty minutes between Broughton and Cormorant Streets; Broughton Street, one hour between Douglas and Government Streets, two hours between Blanshard and Douglas Streets; Cormorant Street, one hour between Government and Broad Street, two hours between Government and Store Streets, and two hours between Broad and Blanshard Streets; Courtney Street, two hours between Blanshard and Wharf Streets; Douglas Street, thirty minutes between Broughton and Herald Streets, and two hours between Broughton and Humboldt Streets.

HALF-HOUR LIMIT

On Fort Street there will be a thirty-minute parking limit between Blanshard and Government Streets, a one-hour limit between Quadra and Blanshard Streets, and a two-hour limit between Government and Wharf Streets. Government Street will have a one-hour limit between Humboldt and Cormorant Streets, and a two-hour limit between Humboldt and Belleville Streets. On Gordon Street there will be a two-hour limit between Broughton and Humboldt Streets. Humboldt Street will have a two-hour limit between Douglas and Government Streets, and Johnson Street a one-hour limit between Blanshard Street and the east end of the Johnson Street Bridge.

Other limits include Langley Street, one hour between Yates and Courtney Streets; Pandora Avenue, one hour between Government and Blanshard Streets; Store Street, two hours between Johnson and Cormorant Streets; View Street, thirty minutes between Blanshard and Government Streets; Wharf Street, two hours between Government and Johnson Streets; Yates Street, thirty minutes between Government and Blanshard Streets, and one hour between Government and Wharf Streets.

TRAFFIC RETARDED

Chief McLellan stated in part in his report:

"In making changes in traffic regulations, the paramount thought in our minds should be to eliminate the congestion which is causing the slowing down of traffic in the business area.

"This congestion in my opinion is caused in the main by angle parking on certain streets and by the all-day parker who makes a practice of moving his car once within the hour in order to beat the parking regulations.

"The principle offenders are not prospective customers who come to town to shop, but merchants and employees in various lines of business who are occupying continuously about 50 per cent of the parking space in the downtown area," the chief asserted.

"It is recommended that prohibited parking be enforced in all public lanes within the business district, and that parking be prohibited on the south side of Pandora Avenue, between Cook and Chambers Streets.

"With the exception of that portion of Yates Street which lies between the west side of Langley Street and Wharf Street, and that portion of Cormorant Street between Government and Store Streets, it is recommended that all angle parking be prohibited in the business district.

NO ANGLE PARKING

"It is recommended that the practice of permitting commercial vehicles which are loading and unloading in the business district to park at angles other than parallel to the curb be discontinued, except where angle parking is allowed.

"It is recommended that parking spaces for cars be blocked off by painted lines twenty feet apart, six feet six inches in width.

"Present stop signs should be replaced by more suitable signs, high enough to prevent them from being obscured by a parked automobile or a standing pedestrian," the chief stated.

He also recommended an automatic traffic signal at Fort and Blanshard Streets and a caution signal at Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue.

He suggested that lefthand turns be prohibited at traffic control signals and "U" turns prohibited on Douglas Street at the intersections of Herald, Fisgard, Cormorant, Broughton and Courtney Streets, at Government and Yates Streets, Broad and Yates Streets, Johnson and Broad Streets and at Fort and Blanshard Streets.

In dealing with traffic control signals, he recommended that the driver of a vehicle stopped by a red light as close as practicable to the righthand curb and at the entrance to the nearest cross street, be permitted to make a righthand turn, but should yield the right-of-way to pedestrians and other traffic proceeding as directed by the green light.

Make All-Bran Muffins a "REGULAR" Habit

● Many women make it a point to have All-Bran muffins on the table at every breakfast, because so many people need just that much added "bulk" in their diet to keep "regular." Here's how to make:

BASIC BRAN MUFFIN RECIPE

3 tablespoons shortening	½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar	1 cup flour
1 egg	2½ teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat until creamy. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 30 minutes.

Yield: 8 large muffins (3 inches in diameter) or 12 small muffins (2¼ inches in diameter).

Be sure you use Kellogg's All-Bran, because it has the right taste and texture to make delicious muffins. Also you know that it is an effective source of "bulk" and the intestinal tonic vitamin B_1.

MORIBUND BUT BUSINESS GOOD

Maurice Colbourne Contemptuous of Canadian Theatre Players

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (CP).—Newly-arrived on Broadway to present Bernard Shaw's "Geneva," which he has given from coast to coast in Canada, Maurice Colbourne, English actor, calls Canadian Little Theatre players "exhibitionists" and Canada's theatre "moribund."

In an article contributed to Sunday's drama section of The New York Times, Mr. Colbourne, describing his tour with Barry Jones and their company, said he had found "not all but the majority of the few remaining theatres" not only in a state of varying dirt and disrepair backstage, but, what is much more important, their auditoriums and general appointments in front are so dilapidated or uncared for that patrons have to overcome a long-established repugnance to their one and only local theatre before they will go and see a play in it."

Sole exception, he said, was the Royal Alexandra, in Toronto.

SYMPTOMS OF DECAY

He listed four symptoms of decay in the Canadian theatre—Canadians are losing the theatre-going habit, the theatres are old and unattractive, amateur theatricals are making inroads on what little professional theatre there is, and the motion pictures are making the greatest inroads of all.

He said too often self-expression in the Little Theatre movement "is only a polite name for exhibitionism."

NECESSARILY INEXPERT

"The trouble with the Little Theatre," he wrote, "is that their necessarily inexpert acting alienates even their own audiences, who are kept to heel largely by a kind of social blackmail."

He said, however, the tour was a success and that "our business might have been very much worse."

SAYS FREEDOM WILL PREVAIL

Canadian Corps Commander Speaks to French Alliance In London

LONDON, Jan. 28 (CP-Havas).—Following is the text of a speech delivered today by Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, general officer commanding the Canadian Active Service Force, at a luncheon tendered the Canadian officers by the British Federation of the Alliance Francaise:

I count it a very high privilege indeed to rise on this occasion to express to you, sir (Louis Themoin, the chairman) and to members of the Federal Britannique de l'Alliance Francaise, the sincere appreciation of the officers of the Canadian military forces for your courtesy and hospitality today, and I welcome this opportunity to assure the military representative of the Government of France, General Lelong, of the deep affection and respect which the army of Canada feels for your forces of land, sea and air.

PRAISE FOR CONVOY

Already we are under a debt of gratitude to your sea and air forces for the part which they have played in the safe convoy of our troops across the North Atlantic, and, as regards your land forces, I have just returned to England from a visit to the Maginot Line, where I had an opportunity to renew acquaintances with a number of your officers and units.

I was very much impressed, indeed, with all I saw, particularly with the cheerfulness and confidence of the troops themselves, who stand on guard in the wonderful new fortifications which defend the heart of France.

Our comradeship with the armies of France was forged on the field of battle on the last occasion in which it was necessary for us to join with you, the United Kingdom and our sister-Dominions in defence of individual liberty and of right against a challenge and threat which came out of Germany, and while we deeply regret the necessity of again leaving our own homes across the sea and our peaceful vocations and our endeavors to develop our own land, yet I can assure you that we fully realize the danger that again confronts the world, and we recognize that no other course on our part would be possible.

VICIOUS FORCES

The peril to which all democracies are now exposed from the vicious forces at play in these countries, which have relapsed into dictatorship must be set at rest, or else the whole basis of civilization as we understand it may be placed in hazard.

Under these circumstances we are very pleased indeed to find ourselves again with Allies who are tried and true. Canada derives from France and from these islands, our heritage from both is blended in harmony in our national life, and, I am happy to say, is recognized in the battle flag which has been given to our armed forces overseas. In one canton is a Union Jack of generous dimensions; in the other the lilies of old France in a circle, a heraldic device which indicates an ancient and honorable connection that is deeply cherished; on the fly, three maple leaves of Canada, symbolic of our own nationhood, combining the heritage bequeathed us by both our great ancestral races.

We stand together with you in the struggle on which we are now embarked. It is a crusade for right and justice, and, while it may be long and bitter, yet we are confident that in the end the cause of freedom will prevail. We thank you for your courteous hospitality to us today, and we look forward to the opportunity of welcoming you to Canada in happier circumstances.

ON THE POLITICAL FRONT

When the first domestic loan to assist in Canada's part in the present War was launched, Colonel Ralston, the Minister of Finance, summoned to his assistance previous ministers and others, regardless of party affiliations. This was the admission that a truly national effort was required to make the loan a success, as it proved to be. It was the illustration given on the part of a member of the Liberal Government at Ottawa that unity of effort is required in insuring satisfactory results in the prosecution of the War. The same unity should apply in all national enterprises dealing with the present struggle, that is if there is the determination of the Dominion to play its part up to its ability and capacity. Both from patriotic and business-like standpoints party politics should go by the board. There is one great task for all at this time—to get on with the War by a truly national effort. The Union War Loan Committee was admission of the principle that the party hatchet should be buried. It demonstrated what unity can do, and there would be a clearer and more decisive emphasis laid on this lesson were the logical course followed of the presence at Ottawa of a Union Government.

The cause of the election to take place on March 26 has been admitted to be the fact that there is disunity now regarding War effort. Mr. Mackenzie King has made it clear that the dissolution of Parliament was decided upon because of the attitude of the Ontario Legislature in condemning the inadequacy of the War policy of the present Administration at Ottawa. The most conclusive answer to that condemnation would have been a decision similar to that reached by the Conservative Government of the late Sir Robert Borden in 1917. If the course of statesmanship had been followed, Mr. King would have conferred with leaders of the Opposition, enlisted their support in the formation of a Union Government, and then sought a mandate from the electorate for such an Administration. He has chosen the course of maintaining party politics. He has refused to consult with representatives of the people not of his own political stripe as to how the country can best shape its War effort. He has disregarded what is happening in Great Britain, where Labor and Liberal leaders are in constant touch with the National Government, and are being kept informed of measures taken in the prosecution of the War. Mr. King has decreed an election on party lines instead of massing all political forces to bring their full strength to bear on national effort. It is a decision that can be approved by none but hidebound party followers.

There is no general satisfaction with the Government's War administration. There is criticism throughout the Dominion of what is being left undone. While Great Britain is summoning her manhood to arms as quickly as equipment can be provided and training undertaken, this country, after an initial burst of recruiting, is restricting its war effort in many directions. It is true that at the beginning of the War the ability to provide equipment for the Services was on a wholly inadequate scale. Five months have passed by, ample time to organize those industries that supply equipment for the Services, including guns and ammunition. Seemingly, in these respects, there is still much that remains to be done. The Canadian Active Service Force at home is ill equipped with guns. The portion of that Force that is in training at Aldershot has had to be equipped with machine guns and more highly-powered weapons from British arsenals. An air training centre in this Dominion, talked about for so long, is as yet only in its initial stages of being put into practice, and for a long time to come most of the airplanes to be used will have to be secured from Great Britain and the United States. The aircraft construction industry of the country is not being used to anything like its full capacity; neither are the shipbuilding facilities. The same applies to both manpower and woman-power, though hundreds of thousands are eager to serve in some capacity or other, but cannot because the Government has failed to organize national effort.

These are some of the considerations that give compelling reasons to the argument that a Union Government should take office at Ottawa. The organization of national unity in war effort should begin on the political front. The prospect of such a consummation has been postponed by the calling of an election to be determined on party lines. Similarly, the putting forth of the Dominion's full strength to assist in achieving victory is being held in abeyance.

A BLACK RECORD

Nazi atrocities in conquered areas are piling up a record unsurpassed in history for sheer, deliberate brutality. From Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Austria survivors escaping to foreign lands have come with physical and circumstantial evidence that cannot be denied. It is the function of a bully to terrorize the weak.

The decimation of college students by firing squads, the torture of men in concentration camps, the deliberate starvation of suppressed peoples under Nazi rule, and the forced labor of prisoners under less than human conditions of living, all point to a warped, a diseased mentality, the full malevolence of which cannot be told in print. Outside of Germany, in areas where the world has had first-hand opportunity to witness the operation of the Nazi regime, the result is no less significant. The torpedoing of unarmed merchant vessels by night when these vessels are hundreds of miles from any port; the shelling of ship's crews in open boats; the machine-gunning of fishermen in trawlers, the indiscriminate sowing of drifting mines, are all of one piece.

When the full record is known, when the depth and range of such brutality is known in all its ghastly detail, as known one day it will be, then the minds of men will recoil in horror from deeds before which barbarian hordes of old would have shrunk ashamed. Neutrality, in the face of such a record, may wear in history a different name. Meanwhile, such acts serve to emphasize the justice of the Allied cause.

ARE THE WRENS RIGHT?

Once again Victoria appears to be facing a winterless year; not merely the traditional green Yuletide and an open golf season, but almost the complete absence of frost. It is as if the Autumn were prolonged, and now, unless the unlooked-for happens, would give way to Spring. This year some of the unexpectedly-mild weather was regional, shared in by nearby communities; but some of it has been local, accounted for by special conditions pertaining to the southern end of Vancouver Island. What old timers know as the three funnels have been in operation.

One funnel is formed by the Strait of Juan de Fuca, a narrow, seventy-mile channel running eastward from the open Pacific Ocean. A second funnel is that formed by Puget Sound, giving vent to our southeast winds. The third is more diffused, following the Gulf of Georgia, the island archipelago, and the inside steamer passage from the north. In at least two of the three funnels there is a close affinity between air and water currents, all making for a special set of weather conditions here.

Whatever the cause, the fact is noticeable that Victoria enjoys a weather programme distinctly its own. Time after time the area has been encompassed on three sides by snow, and yet remained without snow. Rainfall of seventy inches yearly a few miles to the west, falls off to twenty-seven inches in the city. Weather charts, true for other British Columbia points, have little apparent meaning here. Meteorologists have declared Victoria's weather to be often unpredictable.

Notwithstanding all that, wrens nesting in January would appear to be rushing the season. After all, the promise of Spring is not spring; and once we had a snow flurry in April.

MR. MACKENZIE KING'S POLITICS

Such a staunch party organ as The Winnipeg Free Press emphasizes the necessity of maintaining the greatest possible degree of political unity in the prosecution of the War. It recalls how Sir Wilfrid Laurier said in 1916, when the Great War was at its height, that "I would not wish to open the portals of office with a bloody key." In 1940 Mr. Mackenzie King's Administration summoned Parliament to meet, did not consult that authority; consulted, instead, a caucus of the Liberal Members who had assembled to take part in the session, and, without any business being transacted, declared Parliament dissolved. Parliamentary responsibility has been flouted, not because an election is to be held, but because of the fact that Parliament was summoned to meet to provide measures for war purposes, and dissolved before it had any opportunity of doing this, or even of declaring itself satisfied or otherwise with the course being pursued by the Administration.

Under democracy, public opinion is the highest court of appeal, but public opinion should be fully informed in registering its decisions. Parliament is the great political instrument for extracting information from a Government. Following the criticism of what the Administration is doing for War purposes, Mr. Mackenzie King was unwilling to meet Parliament without first seeking a renewed mandate of power. In this respect his political viewpoint in wartime differs from that of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

When the first baby laughed for the first time, its laugh broke into a thousand pieces, and that was the beginning of fairies. —J. M. BARRIE.

Have you ever noticed a small child laugh? But, of course, you have! There is no more infectious case in the world. Out of gaiety of heart, the child laughs. Then, liking the sound of the laugh, the toddler will repeat the experiment; this time noticing the effect. If there is company present, and they laugh, too, then the chuckles become a gale, and a tempest of good-nature and merriment sweeps against the sternest and bleakest sides of human nature, carrying all before it. How rare among older folks is a laugh from sheer gaiety; a laugh that starts from the heart!

* * *

As a child, everybody has the knack of it. It is fun to stand up, with saucer eyes on the level of the breakfast table. It is fun to fall down, and see the world dwindle to legs and feet. It is fun to get splashed with water; and fun to get dried again. All life is funny, then. It is a life of the heart, and the heart grows on laughs. But, as we become older, we try to live with our heads. The head is a sober fellow; not a laugh in it. The head wants a reason for everything, even for a laugh. So the clowns and the jesters and the funny men come into it. We seek to be amused, having lost the way of amusing ourselves.

* * *

There is a difference in our amusement, now that we have grown up. Our laughter springs from quite different sources. There is the slap-stick comedy, in which we laugh at the misfortune of others. A small child would never do that; or, at best, the child would be copying its elders, laughing because that seemed the correct thing to do. Already, you see, we want a little mischief with our fun. The spontaneity of the heart is gone, and the head demands a reason, even for laughing.

* * *

It is a mess of a world we have built with our heads! We have even turned against the heart, and blamed it for disaster. We have said to the heart: "What good are emotions? Be quiet now, while we reason this thing out. We must have facts, and facts and facts." But we will take other things from the heart. We will take envy and malice; hate, even. They are not reasoning; they merely distort the facts. Hate has laid the world by its ears. Can you find a laugh in that!

* * *

The child laughs instinctively, from a spontaneous gaiety of living. The child has food, friends, warmth and security for his or her present needs. Besides, the world looks funny to a child; often upside down or whirling. (The world often looks a bit that way to me, too). But, desperately, we want to laugh; not at people, but with them. Why must we make such a problem of living? Why must it be such a very serious piece of business, living; just a little walk from a point we did not select, to some other point not precisely determined?

* * *

James M. Barrie put it neatly. A baby's laugh, breaking into a thousand chuckles, started fairies up in every corner within reach; and, wherever there were fairies, laughs multiplied, making other fairies. Only the heart, you see, can believe that; the head will not accept it at all. Perhaps we should live more with our hearts, and then there would be more fairies; enough, maybe, to go around. The heart does strange, queer things; but, usually, they are right things, things instinctively correct. The heart, perhaps, came first; and is older and wiser in the ways of men. Reasoning had to be acquired.

* * *

Our acquired reasoning has not helped us very much, as yet, if we must go to a child for a laugh; if, in short, it is still funny to us to see other people hurt. Perhaps when man learns enough to put food, shelter, clothing, and friendship at the disposal of others, he will learn to laugh in his own right. Then, he will have earned it! Meanwhile, little children hold something, something infinitely precious, in trust for all mankind. They can laugh. Listen to them—fairies are being born every minute!

SHE'S FIRST

A book agent called at our house one day.
I went to the door, don't you see?
"I'd like to have a few words with your pa."
That book agent then said to me.

I grinned and smiled and then I replied.
"No, you can't have words with papa.
Just now he's busy as busy can be,
For he's now having words with mamma."

UNIVERSITY PLAN READY

Four-Story Tudor Block Designed as Provincial Addition at U.B.C.

The Provincial Government will decide shortly when the new Institute of Preventive Medicine, a $350,000 structure promised by the Province to the University of British Columbia, will be proceeded with, it was intimated yesterday by Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary. A modern four-story, reinforced concrete block in Tudor style is contemplated, in plans prepared by provincial architects now nearing completion.

With a front of 221 feet, the Institute of Preventive Medicine would stand on the university grounds, facing University Boulevard; with a depth of sixty-four feet. The unit is to include a large lecture theatre, thirty-eight by fifty-two feet, and several smaller lecture rooms; as well as provision for bacteriological and other laboratories, health and nursing units.

TO CO-ORDINATE WORK

It is there, Dr. Weir explained, that the Province hopes to centralize its work in preventive medicine, under experienced staffs, with research and other assistance. The possibility of a Rockefeller grant in aid of research is also being canvassed.

The new building, when completed, will be heated from a central plant, already operating. Part of its space would be devoted to equipment now housed on one floor in the present science block, making additional accommodation available there for classrooms and students. Cabinet review of the project is anticipated shortly, with a decision as to actual construction then.

Bears Charmed Life

It is not unusual to see or hear of some absent-minded person becoming involved in an accident. One day last week a City Hall department head was seen wandering along a corridor trying to remember what his wife asked him to bring home for dinner. While still in a brown study, he failed to see a wall and glass door. He walked right through the glass and received nothing more than a scratch on one finger . . . We were informed by a member of the municipal government that he intended to purchase a pit donkey from the Nanaimo mines. He explained that he proposed to present it to the police department as a mount for bluecoats who mark parked cars . . . A burly sergeant now knows how "fishy" ducks taste. Not long ago two bluecoats out hunting accidentally shot two ducks of a variety ineligible to man. They thoughtfully presented them to the sergeant who stuffed them with garlic, but was unable to get past the first bite . . . A youthful resident of Oak Bay who had not been married long, brought home a chicken for the first time. At dinner time he sat down to carve what looked like a real feast. "What did you stuff it with, honey?" he asked his bride. "I did not have to stuff it, dear," she replied. "It was not hollow." —G.B.

Promise of Activity

The record of the building permits issued for Victoria over the past week indicate that the coming season is going to be one of marked activity in the building line throughout Greater Victoria. There has been a complaint for many past years that there has been a disposition to postpone preparations for starting on building operations until the season is far advanced. The record of the past week seemes to offer contradicion as far as the outlook for this season is concerned. The early start upon building offers advantages all around. From the standpoint of the contractors there is the advantage that they have the work spread out over a longer season and so can keep their employees more steadily employed. The record of the week just passed is most encouraging as to prospects for the coming season.—O.H.N.

Crocidium Multicaule

Last week there was a botanical mystery perplexing members of the editorial staff. A box was received in the mail from Chemainus containing half a dozen small yellow flowers that had been picked near the Up-Island sawmill centre on January 21. The flowers were about the size of a ten-cent piece and somewhat like a daisy, but a solid rich butter color. They were identified by Robert Connell as Crocidium Multicaule. The plant is a native, classified as rare, and an annual. Mr. Connell has found it on the shaley banks of the Humpback Mountain district and has known it to be found in the Duncan district. He has never found it in bloom before April, so the specimens from Chemainus are further definite evidence of the mildness of the present Winter. —H.C.M.

Is This the Truth?

There is a story told about the Keating Squire, in the days of his youth when he thought the only definition for "corn" was something that grew on stalks. On his first visit to the city the young Squire walked into a large department store. Wandering through the men's section he stopped at the pyjama counter and was curiously examining a gaudy pair when the clerk approached him. "Say, what are these things for?" the Squire inquired, holding up the night attire. "Why, those are pyjamas, you know, they're worn in the evening," the attendant replied in surprise. "Uh, huh," countered the Squire with his Keating accent. "Now here's a nice pair," parried the clerk, "would you like to buy them?" "Uh, no thanks," drawled the young "sodbuster." "I don't go out much in the evening, I don't." —W.I.F.

GUILD OF HEALTH

Sir,—In your issue of Thursday last, the 25th inst., you inserted a short paragraph under the above heading stating that the Guild of Health "organized sixteen years ago by Rev. Canon T. E. Rowe and functioning actively until a few years ago, is now being reorganized"; that Rev. R. A. Burge was here for that purpose, and invited those interested in the guild to get in touch with him.

On the day this appeared I interviewed Mr. Burge, accompanied by two of the oldest members of the guild. He did not tell us, nor did we ask him, from what source he obtained his information, but we speedily convinced him that the Victoria branch of the guild was not dead; that even in the absence of its warden, Canon Rowe, it still continued to function actively and successfully; that it stood in no need of any reorganization, and that if it did we were quite competent to carry it on ourselves without the assistance of any self-appointed reorganizer from outside. He gave us to understand that he would promptly take steps to withdraw this statement, but as he does not appear to have done so, I shall be obliged if you will find space for this letter.

T. A. POPE,
President, Victoria Branch, Canadian Guild of Health.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of January 30, 1890)

The Ring—A large crowd filled the Standard Theatre, Portland, last evening to witness the exhibition of Jack McAuliffe, lightweight boxing champion of the world, and Billy Madden, his trainer. The two men stepped upon the platform shortly after 12 o'clock, and first entertained the audience with an exhibition of the different kinds of blows, parries, guards and all other movements known to contestants in the prize ring. This exhibition, which was watched with the closest attention by all in the house, was followed by a three-round sparring contest, during which some very spirited hitting was done. Young McAuliffe did some clever work, and demonstrated his skill as a fistic artist. Madden, to whom Sullivan owes his pugilistic training, was equally as handy with gloves. The entertainment was entirely satisfactory to the large audience, among whom were many of Portland's best-known fistic lights.

Downtown Runaway—A lively runaway disturbed the monotony of Yates Street yesterday. One bystander who tried to check the team got a mud bath for his trouble. They were finally brought to a standstill by a pedestrian winding the flying reins around a telephone pole.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FORMER SINGER DEAD

MONTREAL, Jan. 29 (CP).— Rodolphe Plamondon, sixty-three, one of the best known Canadian singers of a little more than a decade ago, died Sunday in hospital here.

According to Culbertson

Far too many of us have had the awful experience at the contract table of seeing our partner's king of trumps fall to our ace, or vice versa. These tragedies are so sensational that they hardly go by unnoticed, but they are more costly than similar plays that occur time and again without even occasioning comment. Today's hand is typical. Neither of the defenders realized that what appeared to be a normal play was actually an unnecessary waste of honors.

North, dealer.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♠	Double
2 ♦	Double	2 ♥	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

South's opening bid was light, and the part-score situation, plus his own vulnerability, made the bid unwise. He should have known that he would not be able to buy the contract cheaply, and certainly, after his partner had passed, his holding was much too anemic to stand vigorous bidding from his partner. West deserved credit for his restraint in failing to bid over the club. Most players would be unable to resist the strength in both major suits and would either double for a take-out or bid a spade, both of which would be very bad. West's "trap pass" was the only proper call. He could feel certain that on the 60 score North would feel compelled to hold the bidding open. The double of two clubs was exactly what West had been waiting for. He was not nearly so pleased with East's two diamond double, nor with his own double of two hearts, but the situation itself, that is, the fact that it was an odds-on chance that the opponents were "on the run" induced his final double.

West's opening lead probably was unwise. He was in such a hurry to stop the impending cross-ruff that he laid down the queen of trumps, feeling sure that his spade tricks could not get away, since he himself held a singleton diamond and trump control. On the heart lead, East made what might be termed the normal play, but one that was certainly short-sighted. He went up with the ace and returned a heart. Declarer won, and could never be stopped from making eight tricks. He cashed two clubs and ruffed a club, then cashed the ace and king of diamonds. It would have been futile for West to have ruffed in on the second diamond trick, since it would have taken his last trump and would have left dummy with one trump and declarer with two that would make separately for the three fulfilling tricks. Nor could West defeat the contract by laying off the diamond, as he did. Declarer ruffed the third diamond, and West overruffed. Declarer still had to make his own and dummy's heart separately.

The crucial play (aside from the opening lead) on this hand had been East's heart ace on the first trick. East should have seen the virtual certainty that declarer would ruff clubs in the dummy. East could overruff a third club only if he held on to the ace. Thus, had the ace of trumps been preserved as a mere ruffer, the contract inevitably would have been defeated.

FORMER BISHOP IS REMEMBERED

Memorial Service Held at Cathedral for Late Archbishop Roper

Depicting him as "not only a great soldier in the church militant, but a true saint of God," Rev. Canon Robert Connell paid impressive tribute to the late Archbishop J. C. Roper, of Ottawa, former Bishop of Columbia in Victoria, who died last Friday in Toronto, at a memorial service held yesterday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral.

A representative gathering of the clergy and laity of the Church of England was present for the Cathedral service, held at 2:30 o'clock, the same time as the funeral service in Ottawa, many of them having known Archbishop Roper when he was in charge of the diocese here during the years 1912 to 1915.

Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, conducted the service, assisted by Dean S. H. Elliott, who read the Scripture lesson. The hymns, "Unto the Hills Around" and "Abide With Me," were sung.

Speaking of the late archbishop as one who had been associated with him during his bishopric in Victoria, Canon Connell recalled his great scholarship, his consistent kindness and his humility, and said: "I look back to him with reverence and affection."

Canon Connell spoke of the work accomplished by Archbishop Roper here, telling of his great interest in the mission fields of Northern Vancouver Island, which was "probably his greatest work in this diocese." Although Archbishop Roper had been here only a short time, Canon Connell said that he left a great impression behind him, by virtue of his simplicity of life and great strength of character.

"He believed in the sacramental view of life; that is, he saw the heavens open around him, and believed that those who looked would also see heaven open. He was a great theologian, but one also thought of him as a man who saw things with the poet's eye—he discerned things spiritually," declared Canon Connell.

6-WEEKS-OLD BABIES FED SOLID FOODS

Newest achievement in the development of baby foods is indicated by clinical and laboratory reports which state six-weeks-old babies are being fed homogenized vegetables and fruits.

Evidence that these homogenized vegetables and fruits are proving a valuable health aid, comes from doctors who are now recommending they be regularly included in the diets of babies as a protection against nutritional anemia.

Before the development of the special homogenization method, such early solid food feeding was impossible. But now, as clinical and laboratory tests show, homogenized foods can be digested much faster than strained foods. Increased nourishment from homogenized vegetables and fruits with less work for babies' digestion, is another reported advancement over strained foods. Homogenization of baby foods is an exclusive process developed by LIBBY, McNEIL & LIBBY and these products are sold at most grocery stores. If your grocer does not stock these new baby foods, write to LIBBY'S direct.

Modern mothers on the alert for new methods in baby care will be particularly interested in the 23-page, free, illustrated booklet entitled—"Your Baby's First Vegetables and Fruits," obtainable on written request to LIBBY'S, Chatham, Ontario.

DISCUSSES B.C. RACIAL HISTORY

B. A. McKelvie Addresses Association on Mystery Of Early Migrations

"Facts and Fancies of Our Historical Beginnings" formed the subject of an interesting address given by B. A. McKelvie, president of the British Columbia Historical Association, at a meeting of the association in the Provincial Library last night.

Prefacing his address with a remark that the beginnings of the racial history of this continent were shrouded in romantic mystery, Mr. McKelvie went on to quote from the findings of Dr. Diamond Jeanness, of the anthropological division of the Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa, who, after years spent in an effort to trace the coming of mankind to these shores, was convinced that there were successive waves of migration across the Bering Strait from Asiatic shores, the last of which took place about 2,000 years ago.

KNOWN TO CHINESE

"There are written records that seem to suggest that at a much later date, but still 1,000 years before Columbus embarked upon his great adventure, this Coast was known to the Chinese, and had actually been visited and reported upon," Mr. McKelvie continued. About 150 years ago accounts of these visits were discovered in the Chinese archives by Jesuit priests.

Researches made on the speaker's behalf by a journalist in Mexico City led him to the belief that there was a prehistoric relationship between Mexico and the British Columbia Coast, particularly evidenced in the mythology of both countries.

Mr. McKellvie stated that he had spent a great deal of time, also, in an endeavor to fathom the mystery which suggested that there were Jews on this Coast long before the coming of the white man and possibly at the end of the thirteenth century.

INQUEST IS SET IN OAK BAY CASE

Mrs. Arthur Leason, 2238 Bowker Avenue, Found Dead at Home By Husband

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Arthur Leason, twenty-five, 2238 Bowker Avenue, will be held before Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, in Sands Mortuary at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Leason was found dead by her husband on Sunday morning when he returned from his overnight shift at the Oak Bay fire hall. It is believed that she was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun kept in a cupboard off the kitchen.

Mrs. Leason, the former Eleanor Trotter, was well known in women's athletic circles of the city, having starred in recent years on basketball teams. She started her basketball career with the Blue Ribbons, was a member of Gainers when the team won the senior "A" ladies' British Columbia championship in 1938, and returned to play for the Cardinals this year.

She was educated at Sir James Douglas and Victoria High School, and was married early in 1938.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her parents, and a sister, Jane B. Trotter. Funeral services will be conducted in Sands Chapel at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Rex (R) vs. Graham (A)—Graham appealed from sentence imposed by Judge Nisbett in the County Court of Kootenay on a conviction of the accused for assault of a girl under the age of fourteen years. The learned judge imposed a sentence of five years, but in his report to the Court of Appeal admitted that in view of circumstances coming to his knowledge after sentence had been imposed, he might have sentenced Graham too severely.

Graham, on his own behalf, stated that he had a clean record and was a good citizen. He had worked for the Canadian Pacific Railway since he was sixteen years old. He asserted he was mentally deranged at the time of the crimes due to domestic troubles.

Carew Martin, for the Crown, said the offences had been committed deliberately, and in view of the possibility of a life sentence imprisonment for this crime, a sentence of five years was not too severe.

Judgment was reserved and will be handed down today.

Dagleish vs. Dagleish — Walter Owen moved, on behalf of both parties to this appeal, for the case to be placed on the list for the present sittings of the court.

The matter was stood over until today to await a ruling on the disposal of the remaining cases on the list.

Rex vs. Campbell & Daye (A).—This case was on the peremptory list for yesterday, but Howard Coulter, counsel for Campbell & Daye, moved it be stood over to the Vancouver sittings of this court. Counsel stated the appeal books were only now being bound, and further that the accused needed further time to secure funds to employ counsel.

Mr. McInnes, for the Crown, said he was not opposing the motion.

Motion granted.

Rex (R) vs. Thornett (A)—Mr. Justice McQuarrie delivered the judgment of the court in this case, dismissing the appeal of William Thornett from a seven-year sentence imposed on him by Judge Shandley in the County Court at Victoria.

Thornett was convicted for armed holdup of a bus driver of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines. He appealed from sentence only.

Baxter vs. Baxter—A motion by Robert D. Harvey for this appeal was adjourned to the foot of the list, until further instructions are given by the court. Chief Justice Archer Martin stated that Mr. Justice Macdonald, who sat on this appeal, should be in attendance on the bench before this motion could be heard.

Rex vs. Gee—Hearing of the appeal of Jim Gee against a conviction by Judge Ellis in the County Court in Vancouver was commenced yesterday and will continue this morning.

Paul Murphy, on behalf of the accused, contended the judge was wrong in convicting the accused on the uncorroborated testimony of two little girls, whose evidence had been taken unsworn.

Walter Owen appears for the Crown.

CHURCH RECTOR TO LEAVE POST

Rev. Canon Chadwick, Minister of St. John's, Announces Resignation

REV. CANON CHADWICK

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, rector of St. John's Church since 1913, and Rural Dean of Victoria, last night announced his retirement from the church would take place in the very near future. The announcement was made at the annual vestry meeting and will be received with regret by all with whom he came in contact during his long and successful career.

No successor has been mentioned, Canon Chadwick said last night, but the Bishop of Columbia and the church committee were working along canonical lines to secure a suitable successor.

The retirement of Canon Chadwick will bring to a close more than a quarter century of ministry in Victoria and forty-two years of church work in various parts of Canada. His term of service in this pastorate was the longest of all clergy at present at work in the diocese of Columbia, if not indeed of all the communions in Victoria and the Island.

FIRST APPOINTMENT

Canon Chadwick's first clerical appointment was in the mission field of Grace Church, Port Arthur, Ont. In 1903 he was appointed rector of All Saints' Church in Windsor, Ont., and six years later came to British Columbia to succeed Archbishop de Pencier as rector of St. Paul's Church in Vancouver. He commenced his ministry at St. John's Church in 1913. In 1927 he was appointed Rural Dean of Victoria and in 1929 was installed as one of the first canons of Christ Church Cathedral.

In every one of the five parishes in which he served, he succeeded in leading his congregation out of debt and placed the membership in a position to contribute to a greater degree to the funds required for the dissemination of Christian teachings.

Port Arthur, Ont., in the diocese of Niagara, as a student in charge of the mission, he made self-supporting and a tower was built for the church and a rectory established.

BUILT HALL AND RECTORY

Dunville, Ont., built a parish hall and rectory during his two years' pastorate there. At All Saints' Windsor, the church was enlarged and an organ installed. While in charge of St. Paul's, Vancouver, a rectory and parish hall were constructed, as well as a hall for diocesan and synodical meetings.

The history of the present edifice of St. John's Church illustrates the splendid co-operation which Canon Chadwick was able to secure among his parishioners. This building was opened in 1912. Called from St. Paul's, Canon Chadwick took charge in 1913 and was confronted with a $50,000 debt. By 1920 the debt was wiped out. In 1924 the $6,000 debt was lifted from the organ.

Canon Chadwick is a Trinity College man, being a graduate in arts and Divinity. He is the son of Frederick J. Chadwick, who was at one time the mayor of Guelph, Ont.

GIVES ORGAN RECITAL

DUNCAN, Jan. 27.—Duncan United Church was filled last night for an organ recital sponsored by the senior choir and featuring Paul Michelin, organist, assisted by Miss Rosemai Parfitt, soprano. Mr. Michelin's numbers included "The Doges' March," by Frederick Rosse; "Romance," by Anton Rubenstein; "The Holy City," Stephen Adams; "Quartette," from Verdi's "Rigoletto"; "Ave Maria," Macheroni; "Sanctuary of the Heart," Ketelby; "Adoration," Felix Borowski; "Erotik," Greig; "Hungarian Dance, No. 5," Brahms; Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Lost Chord," and compositions by Wagner, Percy Grainger, Dvorak, Ambroise Thomas and Handel, concluding with Mr. Michelin's own arrangement, "Memories of the Motherland."

Miss Parfitt sang four numbers, "Bless This House," by Mae Brake; "When Song Is Sweet"; Haydn Wood's "Bird of Love Divine," and Carl Bohm's "Calm as the Night."

SERVING ON TWO FRONTS

TODAY, as Canada mobilizes her man-power and material resources for the successful prosecution of the war, Life Insurance again serves on two fronts.

On the home front, Life Insurance stands guard over a million Canadian families—including many with fathers or sons on active service.

On the war front, Life Insurance funds — representing the savings of four million thrifty Canadians — are helping to finance the Dominion in a time of national emergency. Answering the call of the Federal Government, Life Insurance companies in Canada subscribed millions of dollars to the first War Loan.

Life Insurance dollars are thus doing double duty. They guarantee financial security for Canadian homes. They also aid our Government in assuming its serious responsibility of providing trained men, equipment and supplies, urgently needed for war purposes.

Every policyholder and patriotic Canadian can well be proud of the fact that Life Insurance is serving on two fronts in the defense of our homes and freedom.

RUTH DRAPER FILLS HOUSE

Famous Entertainer Gives First of Programmes at Royal Victoria

For two and a half hours last evening, Ruth Draper, internationally-famous entertainer, by clever character portrayal, peopled the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre with folk from every walk of life, so that when the curtain dropped for the last time it seemed to shut away a little world of real beings, lovable, amusing, tragic, pathetic—and always interesting.

Miss Draper, who is making this Canadian tour under the sponsorship of His Excellency the Governor-General in aid of the Red Cross, gave the entire programme herself. The theatre was packed and Miss Draper was given an enthusiastic reception, among the audience being His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber and a party from Government House.

BROAD APPEAL

Broad human appeal is the greatest quality of Miss Draper's art. But to make her presentation of human character real, she has built up a technique all her own, showing profound observation of the different types portrayed.

There were, for instance, children at a party in Philadelphia—pretty and plain, naughty and less naughty, ranging in age from toddling babyhood up. And with them were their mothers, society women with bits of spicy gossip that somehow never seemed to reach a climax.

There was a poor Dalmatian peasant woman, a shawl over her shoulders hiding a baby, which she gently rocked while talking to another waiting mother in a New York hospital, all the while revealing more and more the pathetic story of a friendless immigrant family in the great city.

"Three Breakfasts" introduced the audience to a young husband and wife a day two after their wedding.

"An English Lady Showing Her Garden" presented several garden visitors, as well as the flower-conscious hostess and the gardener, a choice bit of sophistication in a setting of herbaceous border, wall and pool.

The last act, "In a Church in Italy," brought a galaxy of entertaining characters to life. An "arty" artist; a delightful American tourist, Baedeker in hand, and several relations hanging on the information she dispenses therefrom; a pretty Italian girl who has come to meet her lover; a German tourist, intensely matter of fact and appraising; and a black-shawled devotee.

Questions Equality of Women on a Destroyer

BY MARION MACINTOSH

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 29.—Well, if you really must know, I nearly froze. That is, during the first few minutes of a trip on a destroyer. The rest of the trip was spent in front of an electric grate below decks.

Not, mind you, that the efforts of navy men to make the trip interesting were not appreciated. They did their best. But the more I see of navy life, the more I think we should draw the line somewhere in this "complete equality for women" stuff. It gets awfully cold out there on the Atlantic!

IT'S A MAN'S WORLD

The men are doing a great job with this navy business. But it's a man's world.

When our party of women reporters went aboard ship, the officers made it clear that we could ask any questions we wanted. Still, you couldn't help noticing their anguish at some of the queries. There was, for instance, the girl who pertly inquired, after the gunnery officer had got through explaining how his pets operate: "And what happens if the shell misses the target?"

"Nothing," replied the officer, politely. War does bring out the true mettle of a man.

It was the same ashore. They wanted us to get the "women's angle" on the navy. But while an inside peek at the navy's side of the war turned up 1,000 facts, the one that really stood out was that the dockyard cat was named Min.

Then there was the sailor on the mine sweeper who explained he grew his luxuriant red beard because he had a cold.

Twenty-eight seamen, we were told, work the sweeper when she's out combing the coastal approaches for enemy "eggs." They live in scant comfort, and life's a constant bore spiced only with the prospect of a run-in with sudden death. But they appeared to be having fun.

KEEP LANES CLEAR

Their job is to keep the shipping lanes clear for the ocean-borne traffic that pours in and out of this port unceasingly.

Almost as dangerous as the job of hunting for mines is that of getting aboard and off the sweepers. We negotiated a series of icy planks and rails of intervening ships at the expense of only our dignity and a pair of silk stockings, to arrive safely back on dry land and head for the destroyer.

The kitchen—to us seagoing reporters, it's the galley now—drew us like a magnet. And even in the kitchen she's been trying so hard to get out of these many years, there seems to be no place for a woman aboard a navy ship.

I'd challenge any woman who could whip up a delectable three-course dinner in a well-anchored kitchen ashore to come aboard and prepare just one meal—soup, roast, vegetables and dessert. Menus are prepared a week in advance, but they've got to be scrapped for whatever the cook's ingenuity may dictate if the weather starts tossing you around.

Peasant Trend In Clothes Is Seen in Revue

PARIS, Jan. 29 (AP).—A strong Finnish peasant note was apparent in French fashions today as Paris dressmakers consolidated their stand against military styles.

"Little girl" strap slippers worn with bright colored stockings gave an outstanding Finnish touch to Summer sports clothes.

Peasant embroideries were seen in linen bibs, and Finland's arms and emblems in designs of printed crepes.

New beach dresses and play suits also copied peasant lines. Made of flowered cretonnes, eyelet embroideries and printed cottons, they had big sunbonnets to match.

Short day skirts prevailed, varying from mid-knee lengths to fifteen inches from the ground. A majority of day skirts were full and flared.

A Summer suit season was emphatically launched in suits of striped taffeta, printed satins and fancy tie silks. Fitted jackets in checked surahs and taffeta plaids had matching blouses and black skirts.

Many Summer coats were cut in loose, straight lines, others with a pronounced swagger flare and some with tight-waisted princess lines.

Many short dress sleeves were shown and also long sleeves widely puffed at the wrist. Back dropped waistlines were seen in belted coats and frocks.

supervise stations and railways between the Rumanian frontier and the line of demarcation between German and Russian Poland.

Rumanian firms have been instructed by their German clients to route oil and grain convoys away from the Hungarian frontier so as to cross Polish territory via Cernauti.

A usually reliable source said that German railways have rushed 120 locomotives and 2,000 tank cars to Rumania to accelerate the movement of Rumanian oil to the Reich. Rumania has only 10,200 tank cars of her own.

Competent observers said "repatriation" of Balkan Germans may be Adolf Hitler's next move.

TROOPS AT BORDER

Despite Russian and German denials that Reich troops have been sent into Soviet-controlled Galicia, reliable sources insisted that German soldiers have been moving into the region near the Rumanian border during the last two weeks.

Strong German units, supported by tanks, recently arrived at Lwow, Stanislawow and Przemysl. Their mission was believed to be to reorganize territories into which Soviet troops have not been able to introduce order. It was believed Russia will maintain technical control and will appoint civil officials in the region.

According to the same sources, trucks loaded with soldiers and uniformed members of the Gestapo (Secret Police) have rolled into a number of Galician cities. Their mission was to supervise the emigration of Germans being repatriated to the Reich.

Community Service Carried on Through Co-operative Effort

Reports to Annual Meeting of Victorian Order of Nurses Show Value of Care Given Here— Mrs. George Hall Elected President

REPORTS representing a splendid community service, unostentatiously but efficiently and sympathetically carried out, were heard at the annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses held yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. Among the routine matters of major importance disposed of during the meeting was the election of officers, resulting as follows:

President, Mrs. George Hall; first vice-president, Mrs. H. S. Beckton; second vice-president, Mrs. R. B. Horton; third vice-president, Mrs. Richard Pelton; secretary, Mrs. Midgeley; treasurer, Mrs. W. N. Sheffield.

Conveners of standing committees were appointed as follows: Finance, Mrs. Beckton; motors, Mrs. W. Merston; rummage sale, Mrs. Harold Wilson; publicity, Mrs. A. H. Wyllie; telephone, Mrs. F. J. D. Pemberton; prenatal sewing, Mrs. Alex Straith; Lenten sewing, Mrs. R. B. Horton.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The retiring president Miss F. FitzGibbon, who was presented with a corsage bouquet as a tribute of appreciation and affection from the members, in her annual report paid tribute to the splendid co-operation received from all sections of the organization during the past year. Although leaving office, she assured the order of her sustained interest.

In her comment on outstanding events of the past twelve months, she specially mentioned the rummage sale, admirably organized by Mrs. Harold Wilson; the decision to carry on with the cars now in use, owing to the lowering of the 1940 budget as the result of the war; the splendid help given by the Junior Auxiliary in financial matters, the baby clinic and prenatal classes, sewing for preschool children, and Christmas sewing. Mrs. Alex Straith and her workers were also most cordially thanked for their work with the prenatal sewing class. Reference was also made to the interest shown by Her Excellency Lady Tweedsmuir during her visit last Spring in the work of the order.

NURSING REPORT

Miss Alberta Creasor, head of the nursing branch, gave a comprehensive digest of actual work done by the six nurses and three cars during the year, the statistical picture showing 11,779 visits made to 1,812 new patients.

"But statistics cannot give a complete picture of our work, for behind the facts and figures lie the sorrows and happiness, too, of human lives throughout the city," she commented before entering on an analysis of the cases. This she did with the aid of a chart, which showed general nursing represented 35 per cent of the visits; instructional, 25 per cent; mother and child work, 19 per cent; chronics, 11 per cent; communicable disease, 7; cancer 2.

INSTRUCTIONAL WORK

The importance and value of instructional work in the "preventive" programme, which is emphasized by the order, was indicated. Clinics and classes served as a medium for the distribution of health knowledge. Fifty-two clinics had been conducted and seventy-six classes in home nursing and child care given to groups at the Junior High School, Y.W.C.A., Provincial household training classes and C.G.I.T. and Oriental groups. One nurse on the staff was doing the visiting to tubercular patients. No public health nurse, however, neglected to grasp any opportunity to teach health while she was giving a patient treatment or nursing care.

Miss Creasor said the prenatal visits and instruction, post-natal supervision and care of confinements at home and actual nursing care of mothers and babies were increasingly popular, both fathers and mothers realizing more and more their need of advice and guidance for the sake of their children.

OTHER REPORTS

Miss Creasor also specially expressed appreciation to the Junior Auxiliary for their active services throughout the year at the baby clinic.

In her report for the Junior V.O.N., Mrs. Goldwyn Terry showed that ten monthly meetings had been held with an average attendance of twenty members. Sewing and knitting for the Red Cross had been added to the Junior activities since the outbreak of the war. Among activities with which the branch helped were named the Chinese Red Cross tag, the V.O.N. rummage sale and the Christmas hamper work.

Mrs. Alex Straith reported for the prenatal sewing class that forty-six mothers had attended thirty-seven meetings in the year, total attendance numbering 232, expenditure for materials being $101.10, collection from the class amounting to $40.80, leaving a net expense for the class of $60.30. Some details were given of the nature of the layette. Mothers able to pay for their materials do so, those who can pay only part are encouraged to.

TREASURER'S REPORT

The treasurer, Mrs. Sheffield, read an audited statement showing receipts totaling $11,210.26, and disbursements amounting to $11,142.06. In the former were included $500 from the Provincial Government, $2,437.50 from the City, $4,250 from the Community Chest, $1,880 from nurses' collections, and $1,361 from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Disbursements included $7,253 in salaries to regular staff nurses.

Dr. G. F. Amyot, recently appointed Provincial health officer, addressed the meeting on "Public Health in Times of War," in the course of which he stressed the need of sustained services such as the V.O.N. "There will be lots of civil emergencies. We must carry on," he urged, emphasizing the need of efficiency, co-operation, public understanding. The only reason certain benefits were not forthcoming was because the public did not yet want them, and the part of the public health services was to get into the public conscience and consciousness the idea that the public could get all the health it wanted.

"It will cost us less to prevent than to cure," urged Dr. Amyot, who hoped improvement in physical fitness would continue at the rate it had since the last war, as attested in the lessened rejections because of physical unfitness in this war.

Miss Helen Schwengers announced that the amount of $11.10 had been received from the check room at the Russian Ballet, and, as convener of the "white elephant sale," reported that the store at 587 Johnson Street would be open next Thursday and Friday afternoon for anyone wishing to leave articles for the sale, to be held there on Saturday.

Mrs. F. Waring stated that thirty-nine penny boxes had been placed throughout the city. The sum of ninety-one cents was realized from the penny collection at the meeting last night. Membership Tea Held at Y.W.C.A.

In a setting of fresh greens and flowers, with lighted candles, the first membership ceremonial was held at the Y.W.C.A. on Sunday afternoon. Miss Doris Jones, the general secretary, conducted the ceremonial, which took place at 3 o'clock in the recreation room. Special music for the ceremony was arranged by Miss Dorothy Beech, girls' work secretary, who was assisted by members of the Omphalos Club, and Miss Jean Routley, pianist.

During the ceremony, Miss Dorothy Spencer, membership convener, gave a talk on membership. At the conclusion of the service, a copy of the statue, "The Spirit of the Y.W.C.A." by E. Kodet, sculptor, of Prague, was presented by Miss Mary Callan, assisted by Mrs. E. W. Hetherington. Miss Alice McKenzie, programme convener, was in charge of the arrangements for the setting and the dramatic presentation.

Miss Kitty Cameron, president of the Senior Girls' Council, welcomed the guests and was assisted by Miss Elsie Peters. Attending the affair were present club girls, as well as former club members, and members of the board of directors and the girls' work committee.

Following the ceremonial, tea was served in the large clubroom, where the tea table was centred with early Spring flowers, and lighted blue and gold tapers. A lace cloth made a suitable setting for the refreshments. Miss Mary Riddell, social convener, was in charge of the arrangements, and was assisted by Dr. Olga Jardine and Mrs. Walter Walker, who presided at the urns.

This is the first time that this ceremony has been used in connection with Y.W.C.A membership, and it is hoped it will be passed on through the National Council of the Y.W.C.A. for future use of other associations across Canada.

Prints Accent Spring Mode

—Released by Fashion League.

Jacket dresses are scheduled for a return engagement this Spring and Summer. Forerunner of the Spring version is this conventional print on grey ground with slim, fitted jacket and softly tailored dress. The grey is accented with a grey velveteen collar on the jacket, but its pastel tones are emphasized with the bunch of red cherries on the shoulder. The visor brim straw by Stetson foretells a hat trend becoming to the tailored lines of the suit.

Women's Institutes

GANGES

The monthly meeting of the Ganges Institute was held last Friday afternoon in the committee room of the Mahon Hall. The president, Mrs. Charlesworth, was in the chair. A letter from J. A. Nunn, Sidney, suggested that, owing to the success of the children's garden competition held last Summer, the competition be repeated this year, Mr. Nunn offering to supply the necessary seed. After the reading of a circular letter regarding Women's Institute war work, it was decided to comply with the suggestion of adopting an English Women's Institute for exchanging ideas and probably goods and foodstuffs, also to write to headquarters for further information on the subject. In compliance with a request for assistance for a family in the Peace River District, it was stated that a parcel containing the warm clothing asked for had been dispatched. Several of the members took a book of tickets, which they will try and dispose of, for the loom from Pender Island. Conveners for separate committees were elected as follows: Agriculture, Mrs. D. Fyvie; home economics, Mrs. T. F. Speed; public health and welfare, Mrs. W. M. Mouat and Mrs. A. B. Elliott; publicity, Mrs. H. Johnson; industries, Mrs. N. W. Wilson. Mrs. W. M. Mouat read a short article on rug making from old sacks, after which Mrs. Charlesworth led a discussion on "Credit Union," and invited members of the Institute to attend the next study meeting to be held at the Mahon Hall February 8. Mrs. William Mouat presented a very amusing "Quiz" programme, and Mrs. F. Penrose undertook the responsibility of another at the next meeting of the Institute on February 23. Tea hostesses were Mrs. N. W. Wilson and Mrs. F. Penrose.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

The Shawnigan Lake Institute celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary with an enjoyable social held in the S.L.A.A. Hall on Saturday evening. The guests included past and charter members and their escorts, and the members of the Cobble Hill Institute which was a part of the Shawnigan branch at the time of its inauguration. Progressive games were enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. The tables were set in horseshoe formation, and at the head table sat the first president and vice-president, Mrs. Taggart, Sr., and Mrs. F. T. Elford, and several charter members. A toast to the charter members was proposed by the president, Mrs. G. Orr. A birthday cake, made by Mrs. A. Kingsley and Mrs. K. Bloomquist, and decorated in the Institute colors by Mr. F. Lyons, centred the table. The first cut in the cake was made by Mrs. Taggart. The thanks and good wishes of the Cobble Hill Institute were extended by Mrs. B. A. McMillan. In recognition of the Institute's silver anniversary, Mr. H. P. Smith presented the branch with five silver dollars, encased in a silver box, as a mark of esteem from the Malahat Board of Trade. Prizes for the games were awarded as follows: First, Mrs. G. Frayne and Dr. C. E. Boyd; consolation, Mrs. G. S. Gibson and Mr S. Smith.

King's Daughters Elect Mrs. A. M. Perry President

Presentation Made to Mrs. William Russell on Retirement—Splendid Report of Year's Work by Circles Is Heard

Mrs. A. M. Perry was elected president of the district King's Daughters at the annual meeting held last night in the rest rooms, Hibben-Bone Building. Mrs. E. M. Haynes was named vice-president; Miss E. Gill, secretary; Mrs. Portingale, treasurer; Mrs. William Russell, retiring president, and Mrs. P. Sharp, executive members; Mrs. James Stewart, rest room treasurer, and Mrs. L. H. Hardie, silver cross agent.

"A great interest has been shown especially among the younger members of the order," Mrs. Russell said in presenting her annual report. "This is gratifying, as it is from the younger members our future leaders will be drawn." It was shown that the membership had increased to 108.

AMOUNT RAISED

The total amount raised by the circles during the year was $617.73. Disbursements amounted to $528.11, leaving a balance of $143.62. The usual activities and relief work were carried on by the circles and assistance was given to the V.O.N., Protestant Orphanage, W.C.T.U. Home, Queen Alexandra Solarium, King's Daughters' Hospital, Jubilee Hospital, T.B. Veterans, Travelers' Aid of the Y.W.C.A. and Chinese Red Cross. Cash donations were made to the Poppy Day and Shanghai relief. The members as circles, and in connection with other units, are co-operating with the Red Cross in providing comforts for the soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Russell stated.

In continuing her report, Mrs. Russell said, "The rest room continues to be a pleasant place for business girls to enjoy their lunch and meet friends. While this is not a money-making feature of our work, the fact that 16,433 girls patronized the rooms during the year makes us feel that it is well worth while."

The cottage at Sunshine Camp was occupied during the Summer and several members attended the opening in June. Anniversary services were held in the First Baptist Church. The annual daffodil tea in the Spring and the Christmas bazaar were both financial successes.

RECEIVES NECKLACE

In appreciation of her splendid work as president for the past five years, Mrs. Russell received a beautiful cameo necklace from the members. Mrs. A. M. Perry made the presentation.

During the business meeting, arrangements for the daffodil tea in March were made, and announcement of the Valentine tea, to be held on February 14 in the rest room by the Ministering Circle, was made, also rummage sales to be held by two of the circles in the near future.

Weddings

BLACKALLER—KAY

A wedding of wide interest in British Columbia took place in the Church of St. John in the Wilderness, Palampur, India, on November 14, when Miss Marjorie Kay, daughter of Mr. C. V. Kay, Vancouver, became the bride of Rev. David W. Blackaller, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blackaller, New Westminster.

Miss Phyllis Drew, Victoria, and Miss Florence Weymouth, Toronto, were the bridesmaids. Miss Drew wore an orchid floor-length gown, and Miss Weymouth a dress of pale blue. Rev. Geoffrey Ginon was the best man. In the absence of relatives of either bride or groom, the bride was given in marriage by Mrs. Wilkinson, and the bride wore an ivory satin gown with a lace redingote ending in a brief train. Her veil was fingertip length. Rev. T. R. B. Wilkinson conducted the ceremony.

Seasonable Oriental flowers, chrysanthemums, apple blossoms and poinsettias decorated the church. A reception was held at the home of Rev. Mr. Wilkinson and Mrs. Wilkinson, the latter receiving the guests in a blue gown with dove grey accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Blackaller left for a motor tour through Kuln Valley, and will reside in Palampur, Punjab, where the groom is on the staff of the Canadian Anglican Mission.

Here's How to Relieve MISERY of COLDS Without Dosing

There's nothing to swallow. Massaged on throat, chest and back, Vicks VapoRub acts two ways at once to relieve misery of colds.

FIRST: VapoRub acts on the skin, stimulates like a warming poultice.

SECOND: At the same time, VapoRub gives off soothing medicated vapours that are breathed direct into irritated air passages.

THIS DIRECT, 2-WAY ACTION loosens phlegm, clears air passages, checks tendency to cough—also relieves muscular tightness and soreness.

Because it's external and safe, VapoRub can be used freely and as often as needed, for children and grown-ups. No wonder it's used in 1 out of 3 Canadian homes.

Manx Legend Is Presented

Pupils of Miss Ethel James entertained their parents on Saturday afternoon in a Christmas play based on a Manx legend and entitled, "The Last Hunting of the Wren." It is a story centring round a beautiful but wicked fairy who lured all the young men to the sea where they were drowned. Eventually she changed herself into a wren, but a spell was cast upon her and she was obliged to spend one day every year on the island, and so it was that on St. Stephen's Day all the young people went out to catch a wren in the hope that the one caught would be the wicked fairy.

Those taking part in the play and the musical programme that followed were: Joyce Helmsley, Donn Carmichael, Pat Greenhill, Anne and Jean Giddy, Marion Gibbs, Joyce Thompson, David Ketcheson and Nancy Carmichael, a young guest who sang a solo, accompanied by Donn Carmichael.

Tea was served afterwards.

REPORT GIVEN BY EXECUTIVE

Assistant Manager of North American Life Comments On Co.'s Statement

In speaking at the annual meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company, W. M. Anderson, assistant manager, made reference to the significant items in connection with the yearly report just released which point to remarkable achievement during the past twelve months and gives an optimistic future.

During 1939 there were 9,451 new policies sold, as compared with 9,300 in the previous year, reflecting increased activity on the part of the company's field forces. Unfortunately, due to unsettled conditions, there were considerably fewer large policies effected, with the result that the amount of new business was $25,652,917 as compared with $26,866,107 in 1938. The new business total comprises new assurances effected and increased amounting to $23,076,230, and deferred annuities with maturity cash options aggregating $2,576,687. In addition to the foregoing there were revivals of old policies totaling $1,894,788, an increase of 10.2% over the amount revived in 1938.

The business in force total of $239,457,765 includes $219,059,645 in assurances and $20,398,120 in deferred annuities. The increase in force of $8,519,823 secured during the year was at the rate of 3.7%. At the end of the year there were 96,364 policies in force, owned by approximately 73,700 policyholders. The policies in force average $2,485 in amount and the average amount in force per policyholder is over $3,200.

Premium income on the revenue basis reached a new high mark of $7,882,940. Interest earnings of $2,823,815 also constitute a new high record and increased by 4.9% over the previous year. Total revenue, including miscellaneous items, was $10,709,509, being 2.0% higher than in 1938 and reaching the highest point in the company's history.

Contractual payments under the company's policies amounted to $4,813,503 on the incurred basis, an increase of 8.6%, as compared with 1938. In the items constituting this total, death claims were lower, while the amounts of maturities and surrender values were somewhat higher. Policy reserves increased by $2,489,958, or 4.9%. As in the past, policy reserves are substantially in excess of the minimum amounts prescribed under the Dominion Insurance Act.

Interest credited to policyholders' deposits and staff pension fund accounted for $149,586 and $38,238, respectively.

Expenses and taxes for the year on the incurred basis were $1,921,286, an increase of 1.6%. Of this total, taxes formed 8.2%, as compared with 8.1% in 1938.

The total of the foregoing expenditure and increase in policy reserves was $9,412,572, which when deducted from total revenue produced surplus earnings from assurance operations of $1,296,937. This amount compares with $1,227,558 in the previous year, the increase being principally due to the company's improved mortality experience.

ASSETS HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

Report by Canada Trust Reveals Increase of $458,000 During Past Twelve Months

In the Canada Trust Company's thirty-eighth annual financial report for the year ended December 31 last, mailed to shareholders today, it is observed that assets standing at $36,609,000 are $458,000 higher than for the preceding year.

The net profits upon the year's business, together with the balance brought forward, were gratifying, the total being $198,453, as against $204,392 for 1938. After distributing $100,000 in two half-yearly dividends to shareholders, paying taxes of $15,531, transferring to the officers' pension fund $19,500 and providing for a contribution of $1,000 to the Canadian Red Cross Society, the balance carried forward in profit and loss account stood at $62,421.

A favorable liquid position is indicated in the holdings of bonds of the Dominion of Canada and provinces of Canada and bonds guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada amounting to $1,300,000. Other bonds are valued at $298,000, and cash in offices and in banks amounts to $205,000.

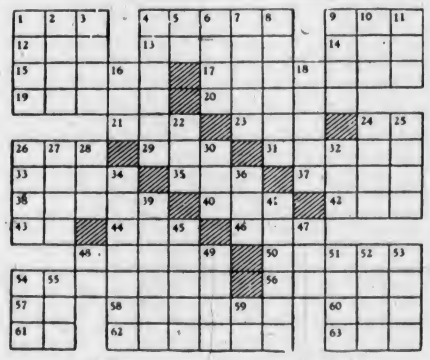

URGES SACREDNESS OF MUNICIPAL WORK

The sacredness of all true service was the theme taken by Rev. F. R. G. Dredge at a special municipal service held on Sunday morning at the Oak Bay United Church, attended by the reeve, councillors and representatives of the school board and employees of the Oak Bay municipality.

Pointing out that whatsoever work was engaged in, no matter in what department, Mr. Dredge declared that if the work was done truly, it was "sacred in the sight of God."

Emphasizing the importance and responsibility of municipal office, he said that in the exercise of their work officials were "sharing with God the service to humanity."

Art of Selling Is Described to Gyro Members

Highlights in the art of selling were depicted to members of the Gyro Club at the weekly meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday by Harry G. Penman, who recently returned from Seattle to re-enter the business field here.

Speaking under the head of "Selling Yourself," the speaker said that "We are all salesmen, either selling ourselves, our personality, our merchandise or our good will," and declared that selling means dealing with human nature, which he affirmed had not changed "one iota" from the days of Adam.

Mr. Penman said that there were three great laws of successful selling. Knowledge of your product or service; hard work, by which he meant intelligent, sustained effort; and enthusiasm.

The latter he declared to be the most important, saying that enthusiasm "is as catching as measles—it spurs people into action and you can only sell what you really believe in."

Introduced by President Arthur Minnis, Mr. Penman's forceful presentation of the fine art of salesmanship was well received by the Gyros present, who showed interest and appreciation of the many apt and illustrative anecdotes given by him in making his points.

"A mouse scared my wife last night."

"Where did you get the courage?"

INSPECT HOME FLEET

LONDON, Jan. 29 (CP).—Units of the Home Fleet now at Portsmouth were inspected today by Education Minister Yvon Delbos of France and eleven other French parliamentarians. The group lunched at the Royal Navy Barracks.

GIVE HER A CHANCE

"Baby," he murmured, taking her hand, "you can't ever begin to understand how much I love you."

Coyly she looked away as he went on.

"You've got the most wonderful eyes I've ever seen. Your nose turns up in the most adorable way." He bent and kissed her ears. "Little pink shells," he said. "No wonder your father swears he'll keep you as long as he can."

To all of which she replied "Goo-goo!"

But there! What can you expect from a child of six months?

Jim—Is your wife happy?

Tim—Mister Jim, she sure is. Mah wife can have a good time jes' thinkin' what a good time she'd be havin' if she was havin' a good time!

ZALE SCORES DECISIVE VICTORY OVER AL HOSTAK

Rugby Selectors Are Attacked by Oak Bay Ruggers

Wanderers Dissatisfied With Selection of McKechnie Cup Candidates—Claim Representation Is Unfair—Situation Finally Ironed Out—Coach to Make Final Choice

Oak Bay Wanderers tossed a bombshell into what otherwise was a very ordinary meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union yesterday in The Colonist board room, when they came right out in the open and leveled criticism at the members of the local selection committee.

Coming right after Chairman Jack Ruttan asked if there was any more business before adjournment, the announcement startled members of the executive and started a discussion that carried the meeting well into overtime.

C. E. Ley, chairman of the referees' board and spokesman for the Oak Bay club, stated that the Wanderers were of the opinion that they were not getting fair representation on the "Rep" squad. In fact, they were so annoyed that they have refused to play in Saturday's McKechnie Cup battle with Vancouver at the Mainland, Mr. Ley stated. He pointed out that the Bays were given nine berths, while the Wanderers had to be content with four. Oak Bay representation on former "Rep" fifteens had been greater, the speaker noted.

DOING GOOD WORK

Bob Wallis, Victoria College representative, expressed the opinion that it was too late to do anything at this stage. He felt that the committee had done a good job with its work.

After a lengthy discussion, C. E. Ley moved a motion of no confidence in the selection committee, and it was seconded by A. H. Cox to bring it to the floor of the meeting. When the chairman put the motion it received no support.

Just as every dark cloud has a silver lining, the situation was cleared up before the parley adjourned and everybody was happy. A motion put to the meeting by C. E. Ley calling for the selection committee to meet again received the support of the delegates and what looked like a bad situation was finally settled.

The selectors went into a huddle immediately following the regular meeting and added three players, all members of the Oak Bay Wanderers, to the McKechnie Cup candidates. Players named included "Tubby" Ley, Jack Grogan and Anderson.

With sixteen chosen in the earlier selections, the additions will bring the number to nineteen. Final naming of the club for Saturday's match at Vancouver will rest with Coach Campbell Forbes, who will make his selection on Thursday evening.

TRAINING SESSIONS

Training sessions for the "Rep" candidates will be held tonight, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at Macdonald Park, commencing at 7 o'clock. Coach Forbes announced late last night that he had received a guarantee from the Oak Bay players that they will be on hand for the workouts each night.

With the Crimson Tide playing away from home on Saturday, intermediate fixtures will hold the local spotlight. Present plans call for two games at Macdonald Park, with J.B.A.A. playing the Oak Bay Wanderers and Brentwood College opposing the Navy. The latter game is scheduled for Brentwood, but Rugby Union officials are hoping to be able to arrange for the match to be played in the city. Kick-offs are set for 2:30 o'clock.

Detroit, Chicago And Rangers Win Hockey Fixtures

Red Wings Continue to Climb in Standings by Beating Boston, 4-2—Black Hawks Go on Scoring Spree to Whip Canadiens, 8-1—Patrick's Club Widens Lead With 4-2 Win

By JACK CALDER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Any time Detroit Red Wings whip one of the National Hockey League leaders today, it's a wonder. When Jack Adams' tremendous reconstruction programme begins to take full effect a year or two from now, though, no Red Wing victory will be an upset.

Adams' fast-improving team stopped Boston Bruins, 4-2, at Detroit on Sunday night and dropped the Bears five points off the furious pace being set by New York Rangers. Inasmuch as Detroit hasn't lost in its last four starts, there's a hint in the air that the building programme already is taking effect as the youngsters gain experience.

Adams and Owner James J. Norris, Sr., learned a terrific lesson when the Red Wings tumbled from the heights two years ago after two world championship seasons. They didn't reach the play-offs in 1938.

Determined that nothing like that ever should happen again, the Detroit management went out to strengthen an already extensive farm system. This year Omaha and Indianapolis became adjuncts to the major league club, and Chief Scout Carson Cooper started to look at and talk to more amateurs than any N.H.L. club ever had scouted.

TRIMS BOSTON

No one expected the network to start paying big dividends this year. But a week ago the Wings whipped the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs and they made the Bruins like it.

The beating of the Bruins was achieved on a power play as skilful as any the Red Wings of the championship days ever pulled. While Johnny Crawford, of the visitors, served a penalty, Alex Mooter scored after seven minutes of the third period, with the aid of Captain Ebbie Goodfellow and Eddie Wares, to give Detroit a 3-2 advantage. Manager Art Ross pulled out Goalie Frank Brimsek to insert six Bruin attackers in the last minute and Ken Kilrea broke away from them to score.

Sid Abel and Syd Howe gave Detroit a two-goal lead in the early minutes, but Milt Schmidt reduced the margin after twelve minutes of play. The score stayed at 2-1 until Bobby Bauer tied it with one minute of the third period gone.

The result kept Detroit within four points of Chicago's fourth-place Black Hawks, and left Boston only four up on Toronto.

The Rangers, meanwhile, widened their margin through a 4-2 victory over their fellow-townsmen, the Americans, before 14,000 customers in a wild affair at Madison Square Garden.

Stuck with only two defencemen because of an injury to Al Murray, the Americans battled so gamely they held a 2-1 lead going into the third period as a result of goals by Charlie Conacher and Johnny Gagnon, against one by Phil Watson. Along the way Hooley Smith and Watson staged a gory fist-fight, drawing match sentences.

Then Clint Smith fired the tying goal seven minutes into the final chapter and, despite the fact they were short-handed both times, the Rangers registered their fifth straight victory on counters by Neil Colville and Bryan Hextall. It was that up-the-ice Ranger method of offsetting penalties clicking again.

Everything happened to Montreal Canadiens. The Maple Leafs beat them, 3-1, at Toronto on Saturday and the Black Hawks swarmed over them to an 8-1 success at Chicago on Sunday night. To cap it all, Coach Pit Lepine missed both games because of an infected foot that confined him to his Toronto hotel room.

Syl Apps returned to the Toronto line-up to electrify 10,030 fans again, getting an assist as Gordie Drillon fired the first goal, with Doug Young of the Canadiens serving a first-period penalty. Ray Getliffe leveled the score in that period, but Sweeney Schriner fired the winning goal in the second. Gus Marker made the win certain the third.

It was a field night for the Hawks, although they were able to gain nothing better than a 2-0 advantage in the first two periods. Les Cunningham got the third goal as the third stanza started and he bagged another goal and two assists before it was over.

Toe Blake, the ever-willing worker, scored for the hapless Habitants midway through that third-period slaughter.

CITY TO WORK OUT

A training session of the Victoria City football team will be held this evening at the Victoria Boys' Athletic and Hobby Club, Cook Street at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to turn out.

EASTERNER PUNCHES WAY TO UPSET WIN OVER SEATTLE BOXER

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (AP). — Tony Zale, rugged product of the Gary, Ind., steel mills, scored a surprising upset victory tonight, when he decisively defeated Al Hostak, Seattle, recognized as middleweight champion by the National Boxing Association, in a bruising ten-round battle in Chicago Stadium.

The verdict of Referee Davey Miller and the two judges was unanimous. A crowd of 11,112 spectators paid $21,419 to witness the upset.

Hostak, rated as a devastating puncher, was in full retreat the last three rounds and appeared to be helpless. His handlers claimed he injured his left hand in the fifth round.

Hostak floored Zale with a left to the jaw in the first round. Zale jumped up without taking a count and had difficulty in weathering Hostak's blistering two-fisted attack in the first two sessions. Then Zale began to swarm all over his opponent.

The Seattle fighter, a sharp, wicked puncher, displayed rare gameness in the fifth when Zale ripped a gash under his right eye and beat him from one ring post to the other. Then Hostak opened up with a savage attack to have Zale wobbly at the finish of the round.

Zale started moving ahead in the sixth round and won the remainder of the round. He poked a long, sneaking left into Hostak's face and ripped rights to the body, forcing the helpless N.B.A. champion into full retreat. Hostak threw only one right-hand punch in the eighth round and only two in the ninth.

The bout was fought over the middleweight championship limit, each scaling 162 pounds.

JEAN PUSIE OUT FOR TWO WEEKS

VANCOUVER, Jan. 29 (CP).—Jean Pusie, colorful French-Canadian defenceman for Vancouver Lions, is through warring in the Pacific Coast Hockey League for two weeks.

Doctors at Seattle this week-end told Pusie he would have to keep off his injured leg for ten days or two weeks. He was hurt in Vancouver last Monday during a battle with Ron Sutherland, of Portland, which cost Pusie a $50 fine and Sutherland $25. Each was suspended for one game.

Pusie was not playing in Seattle Saturday when the Lions defeated the Seahawks, 4-2.

SCHMIDT IS PACE-SETTER IN SCORING

Boston Forward Continues To Hold Clear Lead Over Bryan Hextall

MONTREAL, Jan. 29 (CP).—Milt Schmidt, of Boston Bruins, whom Manager Art Ross rates among hockey's all-time stars, has taken a clear lead in the race for National Hockey League scoring honors.

The Bruin centre added five points to his total last week and, according to official league statistics, now is credited with thirty-two points, three more than Byran Hexhall, of New York Rangers.

Schmidt has fifteen goals and seventeen assists, while Hextall, the league's leading goal-getter, has tallied eighteen times and helped in eleven other counters. (Unofficial statistics credited Hextall with only ten assists omitting one gained in a game against New York Americans last Tuesday.)

DISPLAY OF RAW FURS NOW SHOWN

Importance of Fur Industry to B.C. Stressed by Varied Selection In Store Windows

An interesting display has been made by Foster's Fur Store, Limited, 733 Yates Street, featuring a complete selection of raw furs, every one from British Columbia. The showing is made in the store windows, with the different furs clearly marked as to their nature. The display will be held for the next three days.

To the "man on the street" this brings home, as nothing else could, the importance of the fur industry in this Province. British Columbia is known the world over as the place from which furs of the highest quality are derived and the infinite variety is stressed here. Marten, raccoon, fisher, otter, beaver, squirrel and both red and black fox are all shown, every one from British Columbia, sent in by trappers and fur raisers from all over the Province.

Too many people are under the impression that the trapper is a man who has turned to his calling when all else has failed and ekes out a miserable existence. In reality it is a most lucrative business with excellent money to be made.

The fur business as a whole employs thousands of men and women throughout the Dominion, and it ranks high among Canada's industries. British Columbia ranks first in producing the fur, both those caught in the woods by experienced trappers and those raised by carefully trained fur farmers, many of whom are within a few miles of Victoria. Furs also form a considerable source of revenue to the Govment, every skin taken being subject to levy.

HOLDUP IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Jan. 29 (CP).—Two gunmen escaped with approximately $8,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables after a holdup in a North-end jewelry store today.

SHORE READY FOR TONIGHT

Famous Defence Star to Make Debut With Americans This Evening

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP).—Eddie Shore, former star defenceman of Boston Bruins, came to town today to join the New York Americans, and spent most of the day discussing his playing schedule with Red Dutton, the Amerks' manager, and President Maurice Podoloff, of the International - American Hockey League.

They finally agreed that Shore will play for New York against Montreal Canadiens tomorrow instead of for the Springfield International-American Club against Pittsburgh. Shore owns the Springfield Club and has played for the Indians in their last few games. Tickets had been sold for tomorrow's game and fans had been given to understand Shore would play.

The Americans, however, need him for this game, as Al Murray, one of their regular defencemen, is laid up with a couple of cracked ribs, and Hooley Smith is liable to a one-game suspension after receiving a match penalty in last night's game with the Rangers.

Dutton, announcing Shore's purchase last Thursday, had said the star defenceman would line up with the Americans against Montreal Canadiens tomorrow night, and would play "as many games as possible" at home and on the road for the Americans. He also would play for the Indians, whom he owns.

But tickets had already been sold for Springfield's game tomorrow night against Pittsburgh, and the fans had been given to understand Shore would be among the playing Indians. A few long-distance telephone calls from the conference room to Springfield sought to test the probable reaction if Shore played for the Americans instead.

Dutton took Shore and the New York hockey writers to luncheon today and announced that he and Shore had come to an agreement which, in effect, will make the Indians a farm club for the Americans, though the International-American League team will continue to be operated independently by Shore.

The agreement gives Dutton first call on any player developed on the Springfield team and assured Shore of player support from the Americans

GREENSHIRTS IN SOCCER VICTORY

Defeat Saanich Thistles, 5-2, and Take Over Garrison Cup Leadership

Defeating the lowly Saanich Thistles, 5-2, Sunday, at Bullen Park, Manager Tommy Restell's Victoria West footballers took over top berth in the Garrison Cup race, two points in front of Victoria City.

For the first forty-five minutes the elevens battled on fairly even terms and drew up at the breather with the score tied at 2-2. Alexander bagged two goals for the suburbanites, and Duncan did likewise for the greenshirts.

Wests held the upper hand in the final stanza and fired home a trio of markers without a return from the Saanich camp. Jack Okell and Williams scored in turn, and then Munroe's shot went into the goal off a Thistle fullback.

Webster turned in a smart performance between the sticks for the Thistles, and Roy Okell was outstanding on the Wests' halfback line.

RUTH DRAPER TO PERFORM TODAY

Famous "Character Sketches" Will Be Given on Stage of Royal Victoria Theatre

All told, Ruth Draper, who will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre today for a performance of her famous character sketches, has thirty-six original sketches in her repertoire in which she plays fifty-one characters and every one of which she has written herself.

As Miss Draper has played nearly all over the world, from London to the Fiji Islands, she has naturally had to present her sketches under various conditions and in all sorts of places. Performances have been given by her in palaces, mining camps, barns, town halls, schools, lofts and billets, to mention some of them.

And it is interesting to realize that this great artist has never failed to hold the eager attention of her audiences, no matter where her performances were given or under what conditions. Therein lies her most potent gift. She always asks that her audiences will join with her and use their intelligent imaginations in seeing the personalities she wants them to see. It is through this spontaneous co-operation that those who come to Miss Draper's performances derive, perhaps, their keenest enjoyment.

The entire net proceeds of Miss Draper's present Canadian tour will be donated to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

SPY PICTURE IS AT THE DOMINION

"British Intelligence" Co-Stars Boris Karloff and Margaret Lindsay

In keeping with its now well-established tradition of being the first on the screen with good pictures based on timely subjects, the Warner Bros. Studio has come up with another such winner—namely, "British Intelligence," which will open today at the Dominion Theatre with Boris Karloff and Margaret Lindsay in the leading roles.

The new Warner picture is an exciting, swiftly-moving recital of the activities of spies in wartime, and the two nations with whose espionage services it deals are England and Germany.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Atlas—Joan Bennett in "The Housekeeper's Daughter."

Cadet—"Calling Dr. Kildare," starring Lew Ayres.

Capitol—"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," featuring James Stewart.

Dominion — "British Intelligence," featuring Boris Karloff.

Oak Bay—"On Your Toes," starring Zorina.

Plaza—"These Three," starring Miriam Hopkins.

Rio—Roland Young in "Topper Takes a Trip."

CAPITOL THEATRE Jean Arthur and James Stewart are co-starred in Frank Capra's "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," the feature now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, Claude Rains, Edward Arnold, Thomas Mitchell, Guy Kibbee and Beulah Bondi are others in the thrilling Columbia romantic comedy of homespun youth suddenly appointed to the United States Senate.

CADET THEATRE The first "clothes of the future" wardrobe, in which milady dresses along brief if futuristic lines, was designed for Lana Turner to wear in "Calling Dr. Kildare," the film now being shown on the screen at the Cadet Theatre, starring Lionel Barrymore and Lew Ayres.

OAK BAY THEATRE "On Your Toes," a big musical treat, is featured at the Oak Bay Theatre. Starring the beautiful and exotic Zorina, this rare screen entertainment offers a combination of rollicking humor and superlative dancing.

PLAZA THEATRE It's cheaper to build a city than to travel to it. A home-made city is also more authentic. Both these paradoxical statements proved true during the filming of "These Three," which brings Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon and Joel McCrea to the screen of the Plaza Theatre. The locale of this screenplay by Lillian Hellman was a small New England town.

RIO THEATRE "Topper Takes a Trip," starring Constance Bennett and Roland Young, is now at the Rio Theatre. Others who play roles in this merry farce include Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Franklin Pangborn, Alexander D'Arcy and Paul Hurst.

ATLAS THEATRE Hal Roach's hilarious screen comedy romance, "The Housekeeper's Daughter," filmed from the best-selling novel of the same name, is featured for the last times today at the Atlas Theatre. In the leading roles are Joan Bennett, Adolphe Menjou and John Hubbard.

LINDSAY TO JOIN PROS

Vancouver Fighter, Winner Of Big Tournament, to Desert Amateurs

VANCOUVER, Jan. 29 (CP).—Arnold Bertram, coach of Kenny Lindsay, the Vancouver boy who won the United States diamond belt amateur flyweight boxing championship at San Francisco last Thursday, told a luncheon gathering today that Kenny would definitely turn professional.

"He will not fight on any more amateur cards," Bertram said, "but will make his professional debut here." Bertram was speaking to a gathering of civic authorities, fight men and followers of Lindsay at a luncheon in the Pacific Athletic Club, given in honor of the eighteen-year-old boy's return home today.

Lindsay and his coach left San Francisco by train but motored from Seattle. They were met at the city limits by a welcoming committee and escorted by a long caravan of automobiles to the City Hall, where the new champion received an official greeting from Mayor Lyle Telford. Later they paraded through downtown streets to the luncheon.

What Today Means

"AQUARIUS"

If January 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. until 12:15 noon, from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m. and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., and from 10:15 until midnight.

Evasive replies are apt to be the underlying cause of suspicion. Let your words and actions express frankness if you desire to have a comparatively easy and happy day. The spirit of freedom will make people resentful of any form of restraint being imposed on them, so be tactful in issuing orders. There may be a temptation to spend money foolishly and lavishly on this day, so it is important that you permit common sense to save you from folly. If you give in to an inclination to take things easy, do not be surprised at how little you will accomplish. Faint heart not only never won a fair lady, but it never gained any other coveted reward, privilege or advantage. The results you achieve on this date will probably be in accordance with the amount of preparatory work you do to obtain them, for very little in the way of worth-while achievement will be accomplished through formulating plans on the spur of the moment. Married and engaged couples, and those who have been inspired by Cupid to place someone upon a pedestal, must remember that love has a limitation to the strain it can endure if it is subjected to too severe a test.

If you are a woman and January 30 is your birthday, learn to control your emotions if you want to save yourself from criticism and perhaps unhappiness. You cannot afford to be too temperamental. You should have the ability to conceal your feelings, if you will but make the effort. Most women born on this date are natural born actresses possessing a magnetic personality, which, if developed and used properly, generally leads to their becoming social favorites. Through dramatic, literary, educational, artistic, musical or a specialized line of commercial work, you may win many laurels and make a large income. You should have no trouble in creating for the man you marry and for yourself a happy home life in which the atmosphere of harmony will prevail.

The child born on January 30, frequently has an urge to be the centre of attraction, so it will not be amiss for parents to impress upon it that modesty of demeanor is not only an admirable but a very important trait for a person to possess. There are many indications that this youngster will be one of Fortune's favored proteges.

If you are a man and January 30 is your natal day, you ought to have many people very fond of you and ready to help you whenever there is an opportunity. Success may come to you as a scientist, lawyer, doctor, sales representative, educator, actor, or clergyman.

RUSSIAN PLANES BOMB CIVILIANS

pursuit planes, also were driven off in an attempt to raid Karja, thirty miles northeast of Hangoe.

RAID ON NAVAL BASE

Reuter's News Agency reported tonight that fifty persons were killed and 200 injured in a Russian raid on the Finnish naval base of Hangoe (Hanko).

Abo (Turku), southeast coast port, was raided for three hours the fifty-third raid on that city since the start of the war.

Tammerfors (Tampere), munitions centre north of Helsingfors, Borga and other cities were among those bombed, while residents of Helsingfors were driven to cover four times. Five Russian planes were reported shot down.

The raids came as a weekly review of air activity disclosed that twenty-four persons had been killed and fifty-six wounded between January 21 and 27. The number of deaths was six times that of the previous week.

The review said the Russians dropped 2,941 bombs in forty-six localities in a week, mostly in Northern and Eastern Finland. During that time, the report declared, "the enemy set a new record in bombing hospitals, for eight, clearly marked with the international emblem, were bombed and machine-gunned."

FIELD HOSPITAL HIT

During the raids today twenty-three persons, four of them women, were killed when Soviet planes blasted a field hospital in a village behind the Karelian Isthmus front.

Seventeen of those killed were wounded soldiers. The hospital was destroyed by fire started by the bombs.

The bombers, which attempted to raid Helsingfors, were driven off by Finnish pursuit planes and anti-aircraft guns, and one of the Russian craft was shot down on the outskirts of the city by machine guns. Its three occupats were killed.

Fifteen Red Army bombers, accompanied by a protective squadron of fighters, also were driven off in an attempt to raid Karja, thirty miles northeast of the South Finland port of Hangoe.

The Finnish communique said that 800 Russians had been killed in fighting immediately north of Lake Ladoga Sunday. Bitter fighting in a second battle was reported in the vicinity of Aittajoki, about fifty miles northeast of Lake Ladoga. The High Command said the attack had been thrown back and that "the enemy left more than 450 dead on the field."

Finnish aircraft was active during the fighting, which was officially described as "very fierce in character." Finnish planes "bombed assembled enemy troops and supply columns, and shot down two Russian planes and an observation balloon," the communique said.

Slight Rally in Selected Stocks On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP).—Selected stocks took a little recovery nourishment in today's market, but the list generally remained on a starvation diet.

Fractional gains for steels, aircrafts, mail orders and rails, predominating in the forenoon, were erased or cut down substantially in the final hour, and closing prices were well jumbled.

Dealings were the slowest since last Monday, with transfers totaling 489,840 shares, against 603,885 on Friday. While gloom enshrouded brokerage offices because of the persistence of slack trading, optimists seemed encouraged by the indication that important stock holdings were still intact. The Associated Press average of sixty issues was off .1 of a point at 49.8. At this time last year the composite stood at 49.1.

Loft was among the few shares that managed to post new 1939-40 tops. Others ahead at the finish were U.S. Steel, Republic, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Eastern Air Lines, General Electric and North American.

On the offside were U.S. Rubber, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, U.S. Gypsum, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda, Kennecott and J. I. Case.

Of interest to holders of foreign bonds was a three-point gain in Finland 6's at 45, on the bond market today. This was evidently based on reports of further military gains against Soviet Russia. Some dollar loans of Denmark and Norway also moved up in sympathy. Other gainers in the list included issues of New South Wales, Australia, Peru Columbia, Argentina and Belgium.

United States Governments declined in some instances as much as 11-32 and 12-32 point on light offerings.

PRICES DOWN IN WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Jan. 29 (CP).—Wheat futures prices sagged more than a cent on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as light selling prompted by sharp weakness at Chicago ran through the disappointing buying power.

Final quotations were 1 3-8 to 1 1-2 cents down, May at 84 1-4, July 84 7-8 and October 86 cents a bushel. Fair resting orders from seaboard interests were uncovered from time to time, but observers could not confirm actual overseas sales of Canadian wheat.

Chicago wheat prices skidded 2 to 2 3-8 cents a bushel when buyers left the pit following reports of moderating temperatures in the United States Winter wheat belt and fears that large quantities of wheat will be put on the open market under the United States loan programme.

Export interests bought about 100,000 bushels of No. 2 Garnet in the cash wheat market for shipment East at the opening of navigation on the Great Lakes.

Coarse grains followed wheat to lower levels in dull trading.

COMPANY IS IN SOUND POSITION

Monarch Life Presents Optimistic Picture for the Ensuing Year—Steady Progress Shown

E. J. Tarr, K.C., president of the Monarch Life, presented the report of the directors of the company at its annual meeting held in Winnipeg on January 23. He stated that the financial position of the company was one in which all policyholders, shareholders and members of the organization could well take pride. Bonds and stocks had been taken into the statement at substantially less than authorized market values. Full provision had been made for accrued profits to policyholders, and the reserve for unreported policy claims had been maintained at $40,000, and the investment reserve at $200,000. In addition, out of the earnings of the year a contingency reserve of $200,000 had been set up, and this was done without reducing the free surplus, which, in fact, has increased to $529,000.

In setting up the contingency reserve of $200,000, the directors had no probable need in mind, but took this action merely as a conservative precaution against the possible uncertainties arising out of war conditions.

The company's investment portfolio reveals highly satisfactory trends. The percentage of the total assets of the company invested in bonds has been steadily increasing, ranging from 24% in 1935 to over 38% in 1939. The percentage in stocks has doubled in the last five years. The percentage in mortgages has been steadily decreasing, ranging down from approximately 41% to less than 26%. Real estate holdings are slightly less than in the preceding year, and from a percentage standpoint less than two years ago. There are fewer loans on policies, and the decrease in outstanding premiums, as well as that in interest due and accrued, has been both steady and rapid.

Well-Known Farm Properties Have Changed Owners

Sale of Darby Farm, owned by E. J. T. Woodward, at Albert Head, and the adjoining property owned by Dr. E. C. Hart, to J. A. and W. L. MacKenzie, wealthy oil operators at present in Texas and Trinidad, was announced yesterday.

It is understood that the MacKenzie brothers will bring their wives and families here to make their permanent homes on the big farm property. An old-fashioned home on the Woodward farm will be occupied by one of the families, and a new home is to be erected on the property formerly owned by Dr. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward, who originally purchased Darby Farm from F. F. Higgs, also own the Wade farm in the same district, and have now purchased the adjoining Trotter property, where they intend to build a new home, taking the name "Darby" with them, and transfering their well-known livestock to the Wade farm.

The MacKenzie brothers, who intend to engage in farming, are expected to take up residence at Albert Head in the early Summer.

Your Health and Your Weight

TREATMENT FOR EXCESSIVE UNDERWEIGHT

By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

When a 'teen age boy or girl is underweight, it may be due to growing rapidly, to not eating enough of the right kinds of food, not getting enough sleep, eating too rapidly or playing too hard and too long. Sometimes it is said jokingly, "You can't fatten a thoroughbred," which is another way of saying that slenderness or thinness runs in that particular family.

A family history of slenderness may simply mean that the member or members of the family of this thin individual had the same health habits as he has; that is overactivity of mind and body, eating hurriedly, eating foods of low food value, and not getting enough rest.

Some cases of underweight are due to infection which saps the energy and lessens the appetite for food.

In most cases, underweight young men and women are willing to help the physician or parents in their attempt to increase weight; they will eat the foods set before them, rest for a little while before and after meals, and take the extra hour of sleep or rest suggested.

There is, however, a certain type or group who actually resist attempts of physician and parents and refuse to eat enough food to even maintain their weight. This is really a disease and is called anorexia nervosa or lack of appetite due to a nervous or mental condition.

Drs. P. Chatagnon and P. Scherrer, in The Medical Press, Paris, discuss the symptoms of anorexia nervosa.

"Persons affected are generally women between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five years." Examination and history of these cases show that the patient gradually cuts down on his food and becomes very thin, with a possible reduction of weight from 132 to 55 pounds. There is excessive mental and physical activity, the growth of very queer tastes for food—prunes, biscuits, olives, unseasoned salads—complete indifference to the fact that she is becoming very thin and weak. If food is injected down the throat, she immediately vomits or tries to bring it up again.

"In these cases of anorexia nervosa, there is usually found a family history of nervousness or strange behavior, and unfavorable family environment or circumstances which provokes at times an inferiority complex toward a successful member of the family of the same sex." This inferiority complex may be a forerunner of a real mental disturbance such as dementia praecox (dream state). The regular monthly flow may stop or be irregular.

It can be easily understood how an individual refusing to eat, and being indifferent to the extreme weakness which, if continued may mean death, requires prompt and effective treatment; treatment that parents and physician may not be able to give amid home surroundings.

Drs. Chatagnon and Scherrer advise that the patient be placed in a sanatorium or hospital, fed artificially and receive treatment by a psychiatrist who will patiently learn the reasons for this refusal to eat, and try to show the patient how unwise she is in not trying to overcome these "reasons" for doing without food.

"Artificial feeding consists of two daily doses preferably of raw sweet milk with the addition of the yolks of one or two fresh eggs (raw), together with fresh fruit juices (lemon, orange, and others)." To increase strength and add fluid to the wasted tissues, a half pint to a pint of dextrose (sugar) solution is injected daily for some time, and occasionally also an injection of normal salt solution is given.

The use of milk, raw eggs, and injections of sugar and salt solutions should be helpful in those cases of underweight not due to anorexia nervosa, but which have resisted the usual methods of treatment. I have spoken before of the very thin individual, whose bones appear to be coming through his skin, whose weight of ninety-seven pounds was increased to about 132 pounds in three months by taking six quarts of milk and eighteen to twenty raw eggs daily.

CHAPTER XLII

Suddenly he realized what he was doing. "What a fine egg I am to be crying on your shoulder. After all, there probably aren't any marriages that are really happy. No reason why mine should be any different."

"Don't say that," Star reproached. "In spite of the things I've seen to the contrary, I'd like to believe that marriage can be fine and beautiful."

"That's right. Keep your illusions as long as you can. You are too young to become a cynic."

"But that isn't an illusion," she insisted. "I shouldn't expect to be happy all the time. Even if you loved someone terribly, there would be times when you might get on each other's nerves. Times when you would be bound to misunderstand and become impatient. But in the long run it shouldn't matter. What I mean is, it shouldn't interfere with the fact that at heart you were one, or with the memories you could build up together."

He stared at her in surprise.

"And I thought you were a completely modern young person. Devoid of sentiment."

"I'm not very sentimental," she admitted. "And I have been forced to conceal my emotions. But that doesn't mean I haven't any. You are the only person I have ever really confided in."

"Thank you, my dear! You are very close to me, too. You have been from that first evening when I found you standing on the pier looking as if you were trying to make up your mind whether or not to jump. You didn't know it, but in my own way I was almost as desperate as you were that night. I had gone away trying to think up some solution to my situation without success. I hated to come back, but in helping you I found the courage I needed. And it takes courage, Star, to live with a woman who looks at you sometimes with what you suspect is resentment."

"Then why do you do it?"

"Because when I ask her she always denies it. Then I tell myself that I must expect too much. In any case, Jennifer is my wife and I shall never leave her."

Was he talking for his own benefit or hers? To warn he that it was hopeless? Star sighed but she did not say any more. Nothing she could do but stand by and wait. Jennifer had not boasted in vain.

That night Star told herself, in spite of their happy day together, that his attitude had been entirely impersonal. He had taken her along out of gratitude for the work she had done but from now on she would probably not see much of him. Especially since the morning mail brought the long delayed letter from his wife. Star put it on top of the pile in his basket and managed not to be there when he read it. He made no comment to her but that evening, as she was straightening his desk preparing to leave, he suddenly appeared beside her.

"Are you busy this evening?" he asked.

Light leaped into her eyes but she managed to answer sedately.

"I thought we might have dinner together and go to a show," he continued. "I hate to eat alone."

They left the office by his private door leading into the hall and descended to the street in the same elevator. Star had expected to feel excited, but she was as calm as if they had done it every night. It was the most natural thing in the world to sit across from him listening to him talk. Responding in the quiet way she knew he liked. At the theatre and later going home in his car, his manner never varied from the friendly impersonal one he had adopted toward her from the first. But it was the forerunner of other evenings. Soon it became an accepted fact that they would dine together unless he had another engagement. Star lived for those evenings. She had no new clothes to wear. She went as she was from the office but she never felt ill at ease.

That Body of Yours

COD LIVER OIL FOR ULCERATIVE COLITIS

I write often about mucous colitis—an inflamed condition of the lining of the colon or large intestine. In this condition there is loose stools, diarrohea, and mucous coats the wastes from the intestine. The cause of mucous colitis is believed to be nervousness and emotional disturbances such as worry, anxiety, and mental conflicts. By trying to acquire calmness of spirit and eating soft foods that will not irritate the lining of the colon, many of these patients obtain relief from their symptoms.

What is called ulcerative colitis, where the lining of the colon is greatly inflamed and ulceration present, the symptoms may be so severe that surgery is necessary to obtain relief. For years, mild antiseptic enemas have been used once or twice a day, and sometimes oil enemas, which were left in the colon overnight. What may prove of much help in severe cases is enemas of cod liver oil.

For years cod liver oil has been used as a body builder and to fight infection in the body. Lately it has been used with great success in deep wounds and also in infection of bone.

Dr. H. Gainsborough in The Lancet, London, reports his results of using cod liver oil enemas in six cases of ulcerative colitis. The patients were given foods rich in food value and containing little bulky waste or fibrous material. Meat and eggs are examples of these "high calorie, low residue" foods.

Before using the cod liver oil enemas, patients were given complete rest in bed and starch and opium enemas to reduce the diarrhoea and irritability of the colon. These starch and opium enemas kept the colon so quiet that the patients were able to hold the cod liver oil enemas in the colon all night. This gave the cod liver oil all these hours to help heal the ulcers and raw surfaces. At the beginning of the treatment the patient was able to hold the cod liver oil enema only a short time and they were given during the day. Later they were given at bedtime and held by the patient till morning. The beginning dose was two ounces at a time, gradually increasing up to eight ounces.

Three of the six patients whose illness had lasted three, six, and fifteen months respectively, were cured and have remained cured for past two years. One patient suffering twelve years remained well fifteen months and then relapsed; another suffering six years relapsed after fifteen months but was cured after further use of the cod liver oil enemas. The sixth patient was not helped.

The cod liver oil enemas may not always cure but they shorten the length of illness and relieve pain.

"DOG EAT DOG"

Popular metaphor to describe the disposition of one undesirable by another, and bearing all the earmarks of native United States slang, these words, of uncertain origin, may very well come to us from the shores of the Bosphorus.

Since the faith of Islam forbids the killing of a dog, the Turks were long without a remedy for the hordes of homeless mongrels that roamed their streets and menaced the health of their cities.

Then an Ottoman with the instincts of a lawyer got a bright idea.

Why not catch the canines and segregate them on a barren island devoid of sustenance—and leave them alone!

The plan was executed.

In no time, dog literally was eating dog.

And soon the words went figurative.

DEATH DISCLOSES SEX

Customs and Excise Men Bid Farewell to Department Official

C. A. Tervo Presented With Gift and Is Guest of Honor at Dinner Tendered by Colleagues of Federal Service

Members of the several branches of the customs and excise service in Victoria and vicinity said farewell to C. A. Tervo, who yesterday vacated the office of surveyor of customs and excise for the Port of Victoria, on two occasions last evening.

At a meeting in the Long Room at 5 p.m., the retiring official was presented with a handsome wrist watch, the gift being accompanied with a bouquet of flowers for Mrs. Tervo, while the second event took place in Spencer's dining-room, when the official was the guest of honor at a staff dinner which commenced at 7 o'clock.

In welcoming the gathering to the Long Room, J. E. Kenny, chief clerk, requested Postmaster G. H. Gardiner and Chief Landing Waiter A. Huxtable to say a few words of parting. Mr. Gardiner said he had come to know Mr. Tervo intimately during his tenure of office and had found him extremely friendly in all associations. He tendered him the best wishes of the Postoffice staff, while Mr. Huxtable, on behalf of the men immediately under him, said "all had been fortunate in their relationship with Mr. Tervo." Personally, he had appreciated working under him for the past fifteen years and hoped he would be happy in his retirement.

COLLECTOR SPEAKS

It was left for G. A. Yardley, collector of customs and excise for the Port of Victoria, to make the presentation and eulogize Mr. Tervo's thirty-five years of service to Canada. He briefly sketched Mr. Tervo's career from the day he left his native Norway, a fifteen-year-old, to the day of his retirement. He asked the assembled group to "visualize mentally the picture of a young chap of fifteen years leaving home, friends, native land, everything that was near and dear to him, and setting out for a new world where he would find himself among strange people with strange customs, landing in the new country and going forward to new frontiers and helping to pioneer a new country, making a success of his business, of his chosen vocation and being twice decorated by ruling sovereigns of his adopted land and rising from the position of sub-collector at an isolated outport to the important post of surveyor of customs and excise at a port such as Victoria. It should be an example and inspiration for every man in the service."

Acknowledging the receipt of the gift and coupling Mrs. Tervo's name with the kindly thought which prompted the floral remembrance, Mr. Tervo expressed his appreciation for the good comradeship which had existed throughout all his relations with the men of the customs and excise service in Victoria. He asked for the same loyal support for his successor, whoever he might be, that had been accorded himself. He also exhorted the men of the customs service to give heir best to Canada and maintain a high standard of service. The public deserved loyal and sincere co-operation on the part of the men who worked for the Dominion of Canada, he concluded.

VARIED PROGRAMME

At the staff dinner, which was presided over by G. A. Yardley, the programme proved enjoyable and was dominated by the spirit of good fellowship. Following the toast to His Majesty the King, proposed by A. E. Popham, the gathering was tendered an address of welcome. J. E. Kenny and C. Conyers, appraiser, presented addresses to Mr. Tervo on behalf of their departments, to which Mr. Tervo replied; and Duncan Bain, popular waiter of the surveyor's staff, proposed the toast to the retiring official.

Other items on the programme included Messrs. Youson and MacDonald in song duets, comic songs by Mr. Coombs and a showing of lantern slides by A. Huxtable, and community singing, while P. W. Gibson, computing clerk of the Long Room staff, regaled the gathering with interesting reminiscences of early customs days.

Present for the presentation to Mr. Tervo in the Long Room and at the staff dinner were W. Peddle, sub-collector, Sidney, and H. White, retired sub-collector of the same place.

COMMISSION MEETS AGAIN

Sockeye Salmon Problems Will Be Discussed at Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP).—Harold Ickes, United States Secretary of the Interior, announced today the International Pacific Salmon Fisherics Commission would meet here tomorrow to hear reports on problems involving the valuable run of sockeye salmon.

The commission consists of six members, B. M. Brennan, secretary, and Edward W. Allen, both from Seattle, and Charles E. Jackson, acting commissioner of the Fisheries Bureau, are the United States members. The Canadian representatives are A. L. Hager, chairman, Vancouver; Tom Reid, New Westminster, B.C., and J. A. Whitmore, head of the western division of the Department of Fisheries.

The commission was established in 1937 by treaty with Canada, to protect and extend the sockeye salmon fisheries of British Columbia and of the State of Washington. The treaty covers the waters of the Strait of Juan de Fuca, Washington Sound, the Gulf of Georgia and certain areas of Puget Sound. It was negotiated after the annual pack of sockeye decreased from nearly 2,500,000 cases in 1913 to less than 200,000 cases in 1937.

Japanese to Get Quota Number of Fishing Permits

VANCOUVER, Jan. 29 (CP).—Federal Department of Fisheries officials here said today they had been advised from Ottawa there would be no reduction of licences issued to Japanese fishermen this coming season.

Less than twenty years ago, Japanese in British Columbia held 47 per cent of all fishing licences issued, but the number was gradually reduced to 13 or 14 per cent. There will be no further reduction from that quota this year.

PARTY WILL VISIT HERE

President of Canadian National and Party Arriving on Wednesday

VANCOUVER, Jan. 29 (CP).—Possibility Trans-Canada Air Lines will double its trans-continental service between Vancouver and Montreal was suggested by S. J. Hungerford, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways and president of T.C.A., when he arrived here today on a cross-country inspection tour.

"It is quite possible you will see two planes a day flying East and West before long," he told interviewers.

Mr. Hungerford said traffic earnings by C.N.R. and T.C.A. showed encouraging increases in 1939, while the coming tourist season appeared "most promising." He said he found Prairie farmers in Winnipeg and Saskatoon looking to the future with confidence.

The C.N.R. president commented on the forthcoming general election by saying: "I'm almost afraid to leave home."

Last time he visited British Columbia, he explained, war was declared, and this time he was only twenty-four hours out of Montreal when the election was called.

Accompanying the president on his Western tour are B. L. Daly and R. J. Moffat, C.N.R. directors; W. R. Devenish, general manager Western region, and John Schofield, chief architect for C.N.R. and T.C.A.

HERRINGS LATE OFF B.C. COAST

Fishermen Ask Dominion to Extend Season Beyond Feb. 15 This Year

British Columbia herring fisheries have asked the Dominion Government to extend the fishing season, which would close ordinarily on February 15, on account of the lateness of herring shoals off the West Coast of Vancouver Island and elsewhere in British Columbia waters, it was said yesterday by Provincial fishery officials.

Four reduction plants, operating on the West Coast of the Island, reported poor weather and light catches up until recently, when the herring appeared in numbers and in good condition.

Operations are now normal, Provincial officials said, with the exception that the late arrival of the herring has retarded normal catches.

If the season is extended by Ottawa, operating herring boats and plants would have an opportunity to take up the slack in what otherwise may prove to be a light, short season.

COMING ON MAQUINNA

Captain George Skinner, master of the Great Northern V, who has been convalescing in a Port Alice hospital since he was rescued from the West Coast shore near Quatsino Sound some time ago, will come to Victoria aboard the Ss. Princess Maquinna on February 5, according to word received from the British Columbia Police last night.

Best Grey Hair Remedy Is Easily Made at Home

Any man or woman with grey, faded, streaked hair can quickly and safely banish this handicap with a simple easily prepared grey hair remedy that is being used with marked success by thousands.

Here is the formula: Get from your druggist one ounce bay rum, one-fourth ounce glycerine, one box Orlex Compound. Mix these in one-half pint water, or your druggist will prepare for you at small cost. Comb this into the hair several times a week and a rich, natural-looking, uniform color is given the hair. This shade can be maintained too for only a few cents a week. Being colorless, Orlex will not stain the scalp. Will not rub off or wash out. Does not affect permanents. Is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair soft and glossy. If you want to look ten years younger in ten days, try the economical Orlex recipe today. (Advt.)
